2 HOURS IN WATER AFTER BOAT FOUNDERS

Yachtsman Survives Bay Ordeal

An East Bay businessman was rescued semi-conscious from jagged rocks off Ft. Baker early today after abandoning his sinking $6,000 cabin cruiser in the bay.

Lane Currie, 32, of El Cerrito, general manager of the H. C. Macauley Foundry Co. in Berkeley, told Coast Guardsmen through chattering teeth that he had been in the water two hours before he crawled onto the rocks.

He was taken to Marin General Hospital by Sausalito ambulance and treated for shock, exposure and cuts on his feet. Later he returned home, where his mother, Mrs. D. C. Currie, said he was sleeping today.

First alarm that someone was in trouble in the Bay was telephoned to the Coast Guard at 2:25 a.m. by someone at Nunes Brothers boat works in Sausalito, who said he had heard cries for help near Ft. Baker.

A rescue boat skippered by Engineman 3/c Francis R. Hinds was dispatched from Ft. Point Lifeboat Station. At 3 a.m., Hinds spotted Currie lying on the rocks near Baker's Beach.

Subsequently, the Coast Guard found Currie's 24-foot cabin cruiser, still floating but with just the top showing above the water, and towed it to the lifeboat station. There were two holes in the bottom of the boat, said Hinds, apparently

Trustees Of College Hold Secret Session

Public Also Barred From Scheduled Meet With Faculty

By DONALD G. DAVIS

The board of trustees of the College of Marin last night met for more than three hours in a closed executive session for what board president Rupert E. Kempf described baldly as a session to consider "personnel matters."

When prodded by an Independent-Journal reporter for a more exact description of what the meeting would concern, Kempf replied that he had been told by the county counsel's office that he did not have to specify the nature of the meeting.

STATE LAW

The Brown Act, California's anti-secrecy law, says in so many words that a closed executive session may be held to "consider the appointment, employment, or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges," and for no other purpose.

The Brown Act does not use the words "personnel" or "personnel matters."

Kempf did add, however, with a smile, that he understood the meeting would be to consider "hiring of probationary personnel."

CAN'T EXPLAIN

President Ward H. Austin asked Kempf to be allowed to explain to the reporter more fully, but Kempf signaled him to be quiet, and said the board would "have to go on what the county counsel's office says."

The discussion followed another question by the reporter on whether another meeting at the college, scheduled for Monday evening, would be closed to the public. The board decided, with prompting from Paul Clymer, college vice president, that the meeting would be closed.

'CLARIFICATION'

After Kempf had "clarified" the intentions of the board on the executive session, shortly after 10 p.m., and prepared to start the closed session, the reporter left the meeting room in Harlan Hall, as did several faculty members.

Remaining behind with the board were Austin and Clymer. Today, Austin was asked if there was anyone else in the room. He indicated there was but said, "I don't feel I have to tell you."

The question also was put to trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy. "All I can tell you," she said, "was that there was another person present, a faculty member who did not want a public hearing. And the subject was rehiring."

Austin said the meeting adjourned at 1:15 a.m.

The matter of the executive session was listed as the agenda's last item as "request an executive session to discuss personnel matters." Austin, earl-

U.S. Hurls Space Probe Into Orbit Around Sun

Pioneer V To Radio Back Scientific Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The broadest study ever undertaken in deep space got successfully under way today with the launching of a beachball-sized package of instruments into orbit around the sun. Its assignment is to report back to America on conditions between the paths of the earth and Venus.

The 90-pound, 26-inch payload was hoisted from this missile test center by a towering three-stage Thor-Able rocked five-seconds after 8 a.m.

Three hours later in Washington scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the 165,000-pound thrust had given it speed enough to escape the earth's gravitational pull and that it had gone into orbit that will take it 74,700,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach. Planning had been aimed at an approach within 67 million miles.

The probe, named Pioneer V, is intended to radio back data on such phenomena as radiation, magnetism and micrometeorites, from distances up to 50 million miles and, scientists hope, for decades.

DATA NEEDED

The information on conditions is needed for the day when man may fly to the far reaches. The communication test is a check on whether earth can keep in touch with such a man or with the unmanned satellites that will blaze the trail.

Space administration officials said just after 11 a.m. that the payload had been freed from the rocket at a velocity of 24,869 miles an hour. That was 575 miles an hour above the speed required to put the space flier into orbit around the sun and within 150 miles of the planned velocity.

CLOSER TO SUN

The Washington scientists said the route of the new space probe would take it 18 million miles closer to the sun than the orbit of Venus. They said it would make its closest approach to the sun in its first swing around the sun about five months from now.

The scientists said that Pioneer V would take 311 days to make a complete circle around the sun.

That means the probe is in a slightly broader orbit than had been planned. The original plan envisioned an orbit requiring 295 days.

Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight programs for the space administration said all the radio telemetry channels were working successfully. He called it a "very successful firing."

He said radio signals had been picked up from 8:15 a.m., 15 minutes after launching, up to 8:30 when the transmitter was shut down on command from the earth.

Sonoma Car Crash Kills Marin Man

Harry Wilson Lawton, 62, a traveling salesman for newspaper subscriptions who resided in a room at 14 Sentinel court, San Rafael, was killed early today when his car struck a tree near Kenwood, Sonoma County.

He had come to San Rafael about a year ago and was without relatives locally. His last previous address appears to have been Long Beach.

Lawton's sedan, westbound, left State Highway 12 between Kenwood and Santa Rosa and hit a tree after crossing the south shoulder of the road. Reason for the accident has not been determined, said the California Highway Patrol at Santa Rosa.

An ambulance took Lawton to the Sonoma County Hospital at Santa Rosa where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The body was taken to the Eggen and Lance Mortuary.

460-ACRE DEVELOPMENT

Novato Site Studied For Industrial Park

The new City of Novato may become the site of a 460-acre industrial park.

The possible creation of such a park on the Richard Hanna ranch, north and east of the intersection of Highways 101 and 37, was discussed this week at a meeting arranged by the Industrial development committee of the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Attending the session were Hanna, city officials, chamber representatives and others.

The group agreed that extensive development work must be done before use of the property for industry would become feasible.

With filling to raise the ground level, it was pointed out, the property would attract industry because of the nearness of transportation. The tracks of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad cross the property and two highways border it.

HALLINAN REBUFFED

Ross Will Keep Dogs, May Get Rid Of Deer

The Town of Ross will keep its dogs but may get rid of its deer.

And Vincent Hallinan, rebuffed by the town council in his attempt to outlaw dogs from Ross, will carry his anti-canine crusade to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Hallinan had written to the council describing the crippling of a deer on his property by a pack of dogs, and suggesting in strong terms that Ross pass an ordinance outlawing dogs.

The council, meeting last night, did not even discuss his letter. Mayor Arthur Kanzee Jr. quietly instructed Town Clerk William W. Cole to write Hallinan and "thank him for his comments."

Then Councilman Bruce T. Selfridge proposed that the deer, which Hallinan had said were defenseless victims of the dogs, be drugged and shipped to Mendocino County.

"Two hundred deer could be cleared out in two weeks' time," said Selfridge. "We're headed for another dry year and even more deer will be coming down into residential areas for food."

Selfridge said some water district had found a practical way to drug the deer, rendering them unconscious so they could be captured and moved. The council asked him to investigate.

Hallinan's letter had also suggested banning horses because summers in Ross are "damned by a plague of horse flies."

Said Mayor Kanzee: "Ninety-nine per cent of the flies come from the deer."

But even as the Ross Council shifted the war from the dogs to the deer, Hallinan was typing a letter to the board of supervisors to open his campaign on another front. He wrote:

"Some days ago, I addressed a letter to the city council of Ross urging that some action be taken to stop the slaughter of deer by dogs in that community . . .

"The letter which I wrote was substantially reproduced in the Independent-Journal and I have since received several communications concerning it. It appears that the situation I described is widespread throughout the county."

He said a woman living opposite the old Escalle winery in Larkspur had written him: "How many nights I am forced to lay (sic) and listen to the maiming and murdering which is going on in the wooded section!"

Continued Hallinan:

"The handful of people interesting in allowing their large dogs to run free pretend that my efforts with regard to the Ross City Council are motivated by some dislike of dogs in gen-

Vandals Ruin Project Of Cub Scouts

At 4 p.m. Wednesday, Cub Scouts of Den 2 of Mill Valley's Pack 2 proudly erected a "Put Trash Here" sign in a park in Cascade Canyon.

Today, Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger, the den mother, surveyed in disgust a pile of rubble, with the sign on top—and not at the point where the sign had been erected with a trash can placed beside it.

Victor Paulsen of the Mill Valley Park Department discovered what Mrs. Terwilliger called "the desecration" yesterday.

"Someone had evidently backed up a truck and dumped a load of brick and cement rubble along and into Cascade Creek," said Mrs. Terwilliger. That was just what the boys were trying to prevent. And the dumpers then pulled up the sign and threw it on a pile of rubble.

"The boys worked hard putting up that sign," she said. "And they were so proud of it."

The sign was one of 10 to be placed in Mill Valley beauty spots by Boy Scout and Girl Scout units in a campaign against helter-skelter trash dumping.

"We will continue to put up signs," said Mrs. Terwilliger defiantly as she stood beside the pile of rubble. "We intend to practice and teach good outdoor manners."

Lawyer Plans New Action For Chessman

An attorney for Caryl Chessman said today after a meeting with the Death Row author that he would file a new legal action presenting a "fundamental" argument in efforts to set aside Chessman's May 2 execution date.

Attorney George Davis declined to disclose the nature of the action. He said it would probably be filed next week after he had conferred with co-counsel, A. L. Wirin, Los Angeles, and Rosalie Asher, Sacramento.

Davis announced earlier that opponents of capital punishment would use the initiative method to take their case to the people of California—possibly in time to save the 38-year-old condemned sex terrorist.

Davis' announcement came after Gov. Edmund G. Brown told his news conference in Sacramento today that "I'm now through with the Chessman case."

Any further reprieve, he

Goldfine Faces Tax Indictment

BOSTON (UPI)—Textile executive Bernard Goldfine and his secretary were indicted today on charges of evading a total of $817,334 in federal income taxes.

The indictments were the latest in a series of prosecutions involving the gift-giving industrialist and his "girl Friday," Miss Mildred Paperman.

The action took place in the same courthouse where Goldfine and Miss Paperman were convicted in December, 1958, of contempt of court for delay in turning over certain records demanded by the tax investigators.

Goldfine was sentenced to three months in jail and Miss Paperman to 10 days but they were freed in bail pending an appeal which is still before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Goldfine gained nationwide notoriety in 1958 as a key figure in a congressional investigation of influence peddling in Washington. Among those who received valuable gifts was Sherman Adams, who later resigned as presidential assistant.

Tax Cuts Stalled; Brown Vows He'll Veto Any Slashes

Bill On Medicine Levies Defeated; Death Penalty Session Adjourned

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislative moves to cut taxes were stalled and death penalty abolition was back on the shelf for another year.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, backed by the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, yesterday issued a flat statement that he will veto any tax-cutting bills that reach his desk.

The committee, voting on almost straight party lines, turned down bills to reduce taxes by 94 million dollars, including the key Republican bill for a 10-per cent cut in income taxes.

The Legislature quietly adjourned its second special session—called by Brown to consider abolition of capital punishment—only 14 hours after the repealer was rejected by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The lawmakers remained in the 30-day budget session and a second special session called to consider a host of other matters. The Assembly took a three-day weekend, but the Senate was to meet briefly today.

HOPES DIMINISH

With the second special session died a move to impose the death penalty on repeat narcotics offenders and, apparently, the last hopes of Caryl Chessman.

It was Brown's dramatic reprieve of the convict-author last month which touched off the great debate on capital punishment. The governor posed the issue to the lawmakers after postponing Chessman's eighth date with death on Feb. 19.

Brown's defeat on the death penalty issue was followed by the impressive victory on taxes.

The governor said his $2,500,000,000 budget for 1960-61 is in delicate balance, and any tax cuts now would mean increases later.

SURPRISE DEFEAT

The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee dealt a surprising defeat to a bill to exempt medicines from state sales taxes, some 5.9 million dollars a year.

The measure, rated earlier as the most likely tax cut to pass, was dumped on an 8-8 tie vote. One Republican and seven Democrats opposed it, while six Republicans and two Democrats voted for it.

The income tax bill, by Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco), was rejected 8-7 on a straight party vote.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee approved tax cuts totaling 14-20 million dollars earlier, and the bills are awaiting action by the full Senate.

In other developments, a bill to permit counties to require anti-smog devices on motor vehicles cleared the Assembly Public Health Committee with little serious opposition.

It now goes to the Ways and Means Committee. The two-million-dollar program outlined in the bill by Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) would set up a state laboratory to test a device and a board to certify it.

Restudy Due On Custody Of Gifted Tot

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs' fight to keep their gifted 4-year-old foster child Alice Marie, will be reviewed by the state board of child welfare next Thursday.

F. Morse Archer of Camden, board president, said he has been asked to reconsider the decision to shift Alice Marie's temporary home to a permanent one with more emphasis on books and less on television.

Edwin Hann Jr., acting director of the state child welfare bureau, said a final decision probably would await the outcome of court action launched by the Combs couple.

Hann said he has been getting dozens of telegrams, letters and telephone calls from all over the country, unanimously in favor of letting Combs, 25, keep the girl described as a near-genius.

FREDERICK W. FORD
New FCC chairman

JOHN C. DOERFER
'Wise decision'

FCC Appointment Pleases Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—John C. Doerfer, under fire for accepting hospitality from a broadcasting executive, has resigned as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

President Eisenhower told Doerfer the decision was a wise one, and accepted the resignation effective next Monday.

The President promptly named Commissioner Frederick W. Ford as Doerfer's successor.. Ford, 51, a former Clarksburg, W. Va., attorney, will take over the chairmanship next Tuesday.

Several members of Congress welcomed the appointment of Ford as chairman and said Doerfer's resignation was in the best interests of all concerned.

It was just a week ago today that Doerfer acknowledged to congressional investigators that he had flown to Florida last month on a plane owned by George V. Storer and had spent six nights aboard Stoerer's yacht. Storer owns a chain of radio and television stations subject to FCC regulation.

Doerfer insisted last week to the House legislative oversight sub-committee that he had done nothing wrong, and renewed that contention in his letter of resignation, but said he was quitting to avoid "possible embarrassment" to the President and his administration.

Doerfer, 55, had an unpublicized meeting Wednesday with Eisenhower and offered to quit then. His formal letter of resignation arrived at the White House yesterday.

Sanitary District Annexes Tract

Final action was taken last night by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board to annex the Golf Links Tract at Santa Venetia. The final hearing developed no opposition.

It was indicated that sewers may be provided before next winter's rains. An engineering survey is under way and it is hoped that bids may be called for at the board's next monthly meeting.

The board also accepted the sanitary sewage system of Marinwood Unit 6.

Payment of $132,378.86 to Marcia Estates, Inc., and Barhugh Estates, Inc., was authorized for purchase of Marinwood facilities.

Novato Council To Interview Planner

Novato City Council must hire a planning consultant and determine how much money it wants to spend as the first steps in obtaining an advance planning grant from federal funds, City Clerk Robert O. Bailey told the council last night.

The council decided to interview a suggested candidate for the post of planning consultant next Thursday night. He is Lawrence Livingston Jr. of Sausalito, a member of the San Francisco planning consultant firm of Livingston and Blaney.

The city clerk said he was informed by the local planning office of the state Department of Finance of the requirements for a grant. No funds are available immediately, but a supplemental appropriation is expected soon and then the appropriation for the next fiscal year, he was informed.

When a consultant is hired, the council should decide with him the amount of money it wants to spend over a period of time on advance planning, Bailey said. The grant covers 50 per cent of the cost and, in some cases a little more, he said.

Bailey said a two-year planning program would be appropriate. He told the council that a planner could be obtained for about $8,400 a year. A secretary or secretary-draftsman, if possible, also should be hired, he said.

Ronald MacDonald of the Novato Chamber of Commerce highway committee reported on a conference wth highway engineers on a proposed alternate freeway route. The highway officials wanted further proof that if another route was adopted, it would be used sufficiently, he said.

He suggested the council have a study made of the northeast Novato area to see what population growth may be expected there in the next few years. He also noted that the Richard Hanna ranch, north and east of Highways 101 and 37, is ready to be developed as an industrial site as soon as a freeway agreement is reached.

SCHOOL DEMOLITION

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. told the council the state probably will complete demolition of the old Grant avenue school. He was given this information by Edward Doyle, attorney for the highway department, he said.

The council received a letter from John Cowen, attorney for John and Mary Pedranzini, who own the school property, stating he had advised his clients to stop demolition work.

The council received a copy of a letter from County Administrator Donald A. Jensen pointing out that the county library tax rate of 15 cents produces $30,000 in Novato. The council had questioned whether benefits from the library were commensurate with tax revenues drawn from Novato.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the council:

1. Heard that two-hour parking limit signs will be up on Highway 101 between Grant and Vallejo, on the west side, within two weeks.
2. Learned that the Kiwanis Club will purchase a new 50-star flag and standard for the city hall.
3. Asked Bailey to check with the county health department whether it intends to continue inspection and certification of food establishments in Novato until July 1 without charge to the city.
4. Approved placing $1,550 in a special cash account to pay for the special census now under way. The city's population should be known by March 22.
5. Received assurance from the California Highway Patrol that it will continue, to provide service to the city.
6. Received a letter from Irving Chapman, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the chamber of commerce, reporting the merchants favor a two-hour parking limit downtown, but would also like to see offstreet parking areas established.
7. Received a complaint from Sweeney British Cars on Highway 101 that bus commuters park in front of the firm eight or nine hours a day. The company asked for a parking limit there.
8. Received a request to make Center road one way only during school hours. The road is now one-way at all times.
9. Expressed opposition to proposed legislation that would reduce city sales and use tax revenues.
10. Agreed to pay the law firm of Palmer and Grundstrom $1,800 for its services to the city through March 14 and monthly beginning March 15.
11. Adjourned to 8 p.m. next Thursday.

Youth Council Suggested In Novato

Novato City Council was urged last night to establish a junior advisory board of high school students to (1) train the leaders of tomorrow, (2) let the community know firsthand the needs of youth, and (3) enable youth to share in the responsibilities of the community.

The idea was suggested by Nathan Schafler, who told the council that the "vitality and growth of a community depend to a large extent upon the role youth plays. The voice of youth should be heard," he declared.

Juvenile delinquency grows rapidly when no plans are made for youth, he warned.

Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio said he had heard the same proposal from a high school teacher whose students had been active in the incorporation campaign. "I hope we can get together and work out a program," he said.

CONGRESS URGED BY IKE TO HIKE POSTAL RATES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower sent congress a formal request today for one-cent postage rate increases which would mean paying five cents for a first class stamp, four cents for a post card and eight cents for air mail.

The rate boosts, along with hikes for second and third class mail, would bring in about 550 million dollars additional postal revenue in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Eisenhower's special message to the House and Senate called for "prompt action in this session to restore the Post Office Department to its traditional posture of budgetary good sense." He said the post office is losing two million dollars every working day.

Group Named To Study Mosquito Fighters' Pay

The Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board appointed a committee last night to make recommendations on employee salaries for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

President Evan Pugh named Arthur H. Brandow, James Russell and Harold Henry as committee members. They will make their recommendations at the next meeting set for April 14.

The board also decided that newly hired employees must take physical examinations before going to work, and all employees after they reach age 55 will be required to take physical examinations every two years.

In other action last night, the district board:

1. Accepted Medlock Duster's proposal to provide aerial spraying for the district at $50 per hour for the coming summer.
2. Set April 21 as the date for the annual trustees dinner, which will be held at the Wye Club in San Rafael.

New Marinwood Services District Names Chairman

Charles M. Johnson of 336 Miller Creek road last night was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Marinwood Community Services District.

Johnson was named at the board's organizational meeting. Howard H. Council, board member who took minutes of the meeting, said no vice chairman was named because the board is not required by law to do so. He said the board still must select a secretary and/or general manager.

He said members also decided on length of terms. Johnson's term and that of E. Mack Miller will terminate in June, 1962. The terms of Council, Paul K. Keifer and Buel M. Snyder will run through June, 1964.

The board also decided that regular meetings will be held at 8 p.m. the third Thursday of each month at the Silviera School. The first regular meeting will be April 21.

Special meetings, Council said, may be called by the chairman or the general manager or any two of the other four board members.

He said the only other business conducted was a discussion "into the ramifications of a joint powers agreement with the county regarding what services the new district can perform."

Tiburon Players Set Movie Tests

Testing for the Cove Players' movie production of "Tiburon Trilogy" will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Tiburon Playhouse, according to Cove Players' presiden Arny Schultz.

Screen tests will be given the 18 cast members selected, Schultz said. Six teen-agers are needed for parts in the film feature, which will be shot on the Belvedere-Tiburon waterfront.

Wardrobes, hair styles and makeup will be professionally supplied for those trying out for the movie.

Two Arrested For Marijuana Found On Ark

Sausalito police, with assistance of the district attorney's office, arrested two ark dwellers last night on charges of possession of marijuana.

Charles Hubert Farley, 25, and Robert Anthony Kempf, 28, both unemployed, were apprehended in their residence at 811 Humboldt street at 9:30 p.m. by Chief of Police Howard Goerndt, Officer Peter A. Lampros, and Donald E. Midyett, district attorney's inspector.

Chief Goerndt said his men had been watching the ark for several weeks. Last night as the three officers went to investigate, they saw a girl leaving the ark. She was stopped, and had in her possession two marijuana cigarettes. She is a juvenile from San Francisco Goerndt said. After questioning, she was released.

The officers then knocked at the door of the ark. There was no response, so the officers forced their way in.

They found Farley and Kempf in the ark with "about a quarter of a pound of marijuana," Goerndt reported. The marijuana, he said, was in a desk drawer, in clothing, and in paper bags. Also found were numerous types of pills.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

When It Comes To Eateries, Marin Can Show Even S.F. Thing Or Two

So we were a day late going to La Petite Auberge for dinner and it was my own fault.

I'd hit a well known restaurant in San Francisco for lunch (I'd rather not mention the name) which was very classy. But it left my stomach in a condition which rhymed with classy, but wasn't. That night I settled for two Tums, three lettuce leaves, toast and tea.

The following evening I was in a mood to eat again, and I not only consumed several pairs of grenouilles sautees aux fine herbes (frog legs) but some of my wife's brochettes de filet as well at the little brick auberge at Fourth and Tamalpais in San Rafael.

Merci, Messieurs De Vaux et Flobert, you have no idea how you have gained stature by the comparison.

Hereafter I shall look twice before I eat, and if a certain party in San Francisco asks me how is the food in Marin these days I will just tell him he should visit La Petite Auberge, then go back home and be ashamed of himself. And it has only been open a year next month.

You're lucky you live over here. Why don't you try it?

DISHES FORMERLY featured as summer attractions at Ernie's Waterfront Restaurant in Sausalito are now a regular part of the new menu.

Others you may not have previously noticed are the spaghetti and potroast entrees. These may just sound ordinary to you, but it's the way they're prepared that makes them popular choices among the customers.

Here's an item that you could wrap up most any time of the day or night:

Breakfast, lunch or dinner—what's the difference? You can always order a few side frills to make it fit one or the other.

I KNEW Galli's Restaurant on Highway 101 north of Hamilton Air Force Base was an oldtimer, but I just learned that April 5 will mark its 40th year open for business, which places it second only to Buon Gusto Villa, I guess, for length of continuous operation.

This is the place that rambles like an old farmhouse but still draws many faithful diners from Marin and neighboring counties.

Take along your best appetite when you go because the Gallis assume you are there to eat sumptuously. If you're the type to pick at things, pick some other place.

If the weather's suitable, and you like your steak barbecued, they'll take it outside and bring it back with that he-man flavor.

It's open everyday except Mondays, 5 to 9:30 p.m.; Sundays and holidays from 3:30.

SLIGHT CHANGE in procedure at the Wye Club now offers the diner table service after 6 p.m. with self service at the counter up to then. Melville Gillis, known to many in Marin, is the night cook here. Friday and Saturday meals, by the way, go on to 3 a.m. for night owls.

Menu includes roast squab of chicken, broiled New York steak, and prawns, plus a number of hot plate selections. Pies and biscuits are homemade.

There is music in the cocktail lounge every evening throughout the week. Friday and Saturday nights it's Frank Haggerty's orchestra; Rosemary Ryan at the piano Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday, and Peggy Gay Meyers performs likewise Monday and Tuesday nights.

Food is inviting and reasonably priced.

TABLE CHATTER: Always a breathless spectacle at Tiburon Tommie's is the making of a Royal Tahitian Pineapple which starts with carving out the bromeliaceaous innards, then substituting four kinds of joy with cracked ice and replacing the top . . . Word is that Horace Schwartz, partner in La Cirque in Mill Valley, has taken over The Office on Throckmorton . . . Henry Blenckner of the Buckeye went to see the Olympics and still hasn't come back. Henry: That fellow who won the 80 meter ski jump has landed and gone home. Don't bother looking for his parachute . . . Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., who visited Marin in January, has listed Sabella's among the 20 restaurants in the U. S. he enjoyed "the mostest" during the past 12 months. He even recalled the abalone a la Giovania—he couldn't spell it, but he remembered it.

Sausalito Fete To Honor Sister City

Sausalito will plant a cedar tree at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Vina del Mar Plaza in commemoration of adoption by the city of her sister city, Vina del Mar, Chile.

Mayor Howard Sievers is to dig the first shovelful of dirt at the ceremony at the square named March 5 in honor of the Chilean city.

The tree was given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Turner of 144 Prospect avenue, Sausalito, and a similar one is to be sent to Vina del Mar.

FILM FARE

Marin Theaters Offer Two New War Movies

By LESLIE DARD

Two new war films—as well as a successor to "Peyton Place" — will be on Marin screens this weekend.

Here are the details:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Sink the Bismarck" (CinemaScope) is an exciting—and true—tale of how the British navy sank Nazi Germany's most dangerous sea weapon.

It opens Sunday on the Hub City screen.

Britain's fortunes were at low ebb when the powerful Bismarck sprinted out of its Baltic haven into the North Atlantic convoy lanes. Britain sent every available plane and ship to hunt the marauder.

Part of the story is told in terms of action at sea, part of it in the war room of the Admiralty, where Capt. Kenneth More deploys his limited forces. The film, based on a book by C. S. Forester, who also wrote "The African Queen" and the Hornblower stories, tells how he gambles on a hunch to outwit the Nazis.

RAFAEL THEATER

It co-stars Frank Sinatra as a U.S. captain in the remote Burma jungle and Gina Lollobrigida as the beauty who finds him irresistible.

This film—opening Sunday in San Rafael, tells of a small band of men—largely Kachin natives — led by Britons and Yanks who battled Japanese invaders during World War II.

The film's biggest asset: The beautiful Burma location shots.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Wreck of the Mary Deare" (color, CinemaScope) is a superb movie.

It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

MARIN THEATER

"The Bramble Bush," a new drama in the "Peyton Place" tradition, takes apart a New England community and, in the process, reveals hidden loves, lusts and kindred problems.

And for good measure, there's the matter of mercy killing. (It opens Sunday in Sausalito.)

The participants include Tom Drake, Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Angie Dickinson and Jack Carson.

Put them all together, and they spell murder — or mercy killing; depends on your point of view.

We suggest you leave the little learners at home.

LARK THEATER

"The Lovers" is a new French import which has been creating quite a stir ever since it won a prize at one of the big film festivals.

The reason: Its love scenes are more explicit than usual, even as French films go.

NOVATO THEATER

The best thing about "Some Came Running," which opens Sunday, is Shirley MacLaine's performance (which won her an Oscar nomination) as a floozy in pursuit of Frank Sinatra.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Samson and Delilah," a biblical extravaganza (in Technicolor), was one of Cecil B. DeMille's greatest and made a mint when it was first released 10 years ago.

Hedy Lamarr appears as Delilah and Victor Mature as Samson. The huge cast also includes George Sanders, Angela Lansbury, Fay Holden, Henry Wilcoxon and Russ Tamblyn, plus the usual DeMille extras (in the thousands).

It plays tonight and tomorrow.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Little Abner" (VistaVision, color) is a musical. It has lots of singing and dancing and it is very funny.

Based on the musical comedy which ran on Broadway for quite a spell, it offers something for everybody, ranging from downright farce to witty political satire.

Most of the actors are from the stage cast, in itself an excellent idea, since the performances come naturally.

Street Crew Cuts City Hall Phone Line In Mill Valley

Communications to the Mill Valley City Hall were cut off for 15 minutes Wednesday, starting at 3:30 p.m., when a loader bucket being run by a street department crew cut the telephone conduit next to the hall.

Ross Benson, superintendent of public works, said the crew was removing topsoil to prepare for the new city parking lot. There were no markings on paved area nearby to point out existence of the line, he said.

Temporary telephone lines were set up by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Exciting Mystery Play Presented At Dominican

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

The premier performance of "Murder in the Calais Coach" at Dominican College last weekend was a threefold success for Sister M. Cyril, O.P., chairman of the college's speech, radio and drama department.

Sister Cyril, the show's playwright, director and producer came through with flying colors in all three roles.

Her plotting of the Agatha Christie mystery story is crammed full of suspense and excitement and the play's dialogue is crisp and full of humor.

An American man of affairs is murdered aboard the Orient Express during a three-day trip from Istanbul to Calais. Don Cima as the international detective, Hercule Poirot, discovers the mysterious American was traveling under an alias and in reality was the kidnap-murderer of an American child, Dolly Armstrong.

From this point on the finger of suspicion begins to twitch at each passenger aboard the coach as Poirot links them, one by one, to the Armstrong case. The problem: With so many suspects . . . which one did it.

The play builds steadily to a most unusual ending and coming originally from the pen of Miss Christie who is world famous for chilling climaxes: This is something.

Lynn Harriman in the role of a corn fed, Midwestern housewife brought the house down with her "canned voice" sounding as if it could have been delivered in a box of crackerjacks.

The attitude of a haughty, thick speaking Russian princess was captured by Dianne Phoenix and Eugene Fracchia as Bouc, the upset train director, was a very unbelievable Frenchman.

Rachael Spieler was convincing in the role of a crass, loudmouthed American businesswoman and Mary Debenham was properly reserved as a cool-thinking English governess.

The production is tentatively scheduled to run at the University of San Francisco's little theater in the next two weeks.

Tickets Available For Tiburon Play

Tickets are still available for tomorrow night's performance of the Cove Players' production of "You Can't Take It With You" at the Tiburon Playhouse.

The curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m. on the final performance of the Moss Hart-George Kaufman comedy of life in the '30s.

Saving Forecasts

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A government science consultant says savings of four billion dollars a year, chiefly in agriculture, can be expected in the next 10 to 15 years as a result of improved weather forecasting.

Dr. Charles Sheldon II, technical representative of the House of Representatives Committee on Science and Astronautics, said in an interview that the new forecasting know-how will come from experiments with satellites.

MARIN MAGAZINE
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY IN THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — The man behind the cigar—and also behind the highly successful Marin Rod and Gun Club Sports Show which will be coming up again March 18 through March 20—is Bernard (Barney) DeBisschop, described by his friends as "a human dynamo." Spearheading of the popular sports show is just one of many activities which have won De Bisschop prominence and a wide acquaintance in Marin County. You'll read about this sportsman and civic leader in tomorrow's Marin Magazine in an article written by Independent-Journal reporter Dorothy Slattery.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

College To Expand Music Program

Recommendations for the music program were made by Dr. John Milton Kelly of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, who has been filling in since the retirement of Clinton Lewis, formerly in charge of the college program.

The expansion would change a one-semester three-unit course for music teachers to a two-semester two-unit course.

Also to be enlarged are the instrumental courses in orchestra and band. The catalogue formerly did not use the word orchestra.

Kelly told the board the catalogue should be planned so that incoming students would have some idea of what might be offered, and so that who ever the board selects to head the department next year will have "something to plan and develop."

"There is a high level of taste in music in the county, but probably not a very high level of understanding. High school students who come here can't read music," he said.

Board Chairman Rupert E. Kempf asked why two harmony courses were proposed and not more advanced counterpoint courses. Kelly said high school youngsters were taught to sing and play instruments, but not to read music.

The board approved the enlargement, but made no mention of who might succeed Lewis. Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, commenting on a suggestion by Kelly, said: "Perhaps this is where we can all work together. Let's let the man we employ work with the high school teachers."

The board also:

1. Heard an opinion from the county counsel's office that student organizations may exist on campus legally only if recognized by the board.
2. Approved a program by the Flamingo Singers at 3:30 p.m., April 13, at the college under sponsorship of the student body, which is to get 20 per cent of the receipts.
3. Voted to pay architect William Corlett $380 for plans he drew for a corrected water supply system. The plans were never used.
4. Instructed President Ward H. Austin to contact the county counsel's office on the legality of using district funds for a dinner meeting of high school administrators and counselors with college administrations and counselors. Kempf said such a meeting would be "terribly important" for an exchange of ideas.
5. Voted to fill a campus fish pond because it is an "attractive nuisance."

State Orders Texts From Private Firms

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Despite opposition, the state Board of Education yesterday approved a multi-million-dollar order for the printing of privately owned textbooks.

Out of a total of 53 textbooks adopted at the conclusion of a four-hour meeting at Long Beach State College, 33 will be printed by private contractors. The remainder will be printed at the state's plant in Sacramento.

Cost for the textbooks will be $10,180,380, or $1,900,000 more than if all the books were printed by the state. Board officials said the textbooks to be printed by the private companies were superior to those which could be printed with leased plates from other firms.

Private firms received contracts for 69 per cent of the 7,910,000 books authorized by the board for elementary reading classes (grades one through eight).

Allyn and Bacon, Inc. $2,901,904, for 2,410,000 books; Ginn and Co., $3,079,000, for 2,825,000 books, and American Book Co., $556,130 for 290,000 books.

The order was the largest for private printing since 1931.

He said state workers would be deprived of jobs by the move.

CANDIDATE—Mrs. Maurine Neuberger, widow of U. S. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) who died Wednesday of a cerebral hemorrhage, yesterday filed as a Democratic candidate to succeed her husband. Her filing brought a statement from Oregon's Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield that he will not appoint her, or any other active candidate for the Senate seat, as temporary successor. Drunk Driver Gets 30-Day Jail Term

A San Francisco house painter must spend 30 days in Marin County Jail and pay a $250 fine for his fifth drunken driving offense in nine years.

Miles F. Davidson, 51, was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. If Davidson cannot pay his fine, he must spend an additional 25 days in jail. The judge also suspended Davidson's driving license for six months.

He was arrested on Highway 101 on Washington's birthday. He had prior convictions in 1951 and 1957 in San Francisco, January of 1956 in San Luis Obispo and June of the same year in Vallejo.

James Alston McPherson, 30, insurance salesman of 27 Monroe street, Sausalito, must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense. He was caught on Curry avenue in Sausalito last Feb. 28.

Tiburon Artist Sets Exhibit, Lectures

Marin County artist Lynda McNeur of 10 Benton court, Tiburon, will exhibit a series of 12 paintings called "Listen to Living" and deliver lectures on the philosophy of art March 18-20 at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore.

Mrs. McNeur will also organize the art program for the conference of 14 western states held by the Ecumerical Council of Presbyterian Churches in Carmel July 29-Aug. 3.

The Tiburon artist also has received an invitation from the National Council of Churches in Philadelphia to exhibit abstract paintings at a national conference to be held in New Mexico next August.

PLANNERS UPHELD

Supervisors Kill Big Paradise Park Project

After several hearings the Marin County Board of Supervisors is on record as upholding the planning commission's rejection of the Paradise Park project on Tiburon Peninsula.

Supervisor Vera Schultz, who two weeks ago had failed to get a second when she introduced a resolution against the development, succeeded late Tuesday in obtaining a 3-1 vote to reject the Paradise Park Investment Co. project.

Supervisor James Marshall this time provided the second and Supervisor William Gnoss joined the Schultz side in the voting.

Only Chairman Walter R. Castro voted "no." He gave as his reason the absence of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who was suffering from an injured shin.

"I don't think we should act on a matter as important as this without a full attendance," said Castro.

But Mrs. Schultz repeated her view that while the Paradise Park project was most attractive, promising an eventual $7,844,000 in taxable property for the county subject to "spot" rezoning to allow apartment construction, "the people of the area are against it."

This in essence also had been the opinion of members of the Marin County Planning Commission in their earlier refusal to recommend the rezoning. Several planners commented that it was a fine plan but intended for the wrong place.

Although tape recordings of many objections had been taken at a meeting Jan. 26, and though a large number of letters and telegrams were already on record, Clerk George S. Jones received about 50 more letters prior to the Tuesday meeting.

They ran about 2-1 opposed to the projects, Jones said.

Proposed were 18 three-story six-family garden apartments at $148,000 apiece; 14 single family homes valued at $20,000 each, and a $300,000 yacht harbor with 230 slips and a clubhouse in Paradise Cove. The developers said they would serve well-to-do people providing plenty of tax money and creating no school problem.

Parking Problems Cited In Novato

"Novato hasn't started to grow yet . . . and it will die before it does."

The Novato City Council heard this gloomy prediction last night from Joseph W. Wright, Novato resident who wants to build a store and office building on Grant avenue with fewer offstreet parking spaces than required by city ordinance.

Wright told the council the most important thing for it to do is to put a parking limit on Grant avenue and enforce it, pave the alley behind Grant avenue so parking lots can be laid out there.

He said property should be condemned to make parking lots. He proposed that the merchants pay for these lots through an assessment district.

Wright made his comments during his appeal to the council to overrule the county planning commission's denial of his application to construct a building with substandard parking.

The site of the proposed building is on the south side of Grant, east of Fourth street. It would have 10 parking spaces. The zoning ordinance requires a minimum of 16 spaces, plus two loading zones.

Councilmen decided to send the matter back to the planning commission to give Wright an opportunity to come up with revisions to meet parking requirements, although he maintained he could not do this.

Wright told the council it should abandon a "completely outdated master plan which doesn't work here." He said there was not enough parking in the downtown area now for the businesses there, "because there is no time limit on Grant avenue and no offstreet parking. And we've got an alley full of holes."

He cited the case of San Rafael and the money it has had to spend for offstreet parking —but "it's keeping the downtown alive."

"Now is the time to procure land for parking lots," he said. "We're not out of parking now; we're just not using it. If lots behind the stores were properly developed, employees would move their cars off the streets and relieve the parking situation, Wright said.

City Clerk Robert O. Bailey said the problem was one for the citizens' committee on traffic and parking to study—and very soon. The group should determine whether it would be prohibitive to buy land for parking lots now, he said.

B. D. Dobbs of the Marin County planning staff, which is serving as the City of Novato's planning staff, told the council that one of the principal points to be determined is where the city's main shopping area will be. "You might determine that a capacity doesn't exist on Grant avenue for handling a downtown area," he said.

Referring to Wright's application, Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio said that if a variance were granted and the council continues not to uphold the planning commission, "we are accelerating the death of the downtown area."

Mayor Wayne Womack said Wright seeks to build on a substandard lot. The property can never be utilized so it will provide adequate parking spaces, he declared.

In other planning matters, the council upheld planning commission denial of the application of D. Halakis for an additional sign at the 101 Motel at 5613 Redwood highway.

It also upheld approval of a tentative map of Hillside subdivision Unit 2 near Tamalpais avenue, with certain minor provisions.

Harley McAskill, chairman of the newly appointed Novato Planning Commission, reported his group was ready to go to work. The council promptly decided to notify the county planning commission, which has been serving as Novato's commission, that in 30 days the city will no longer need its services.

McAskill said the commission's first official meeting would be held April 25.

Construction Set On Bowling Alley

Wilco Construction Co. of San Francisco will start work immediately on a 32-lane bowling alley on the east side of Highway 101 north of Hamilton Air Force Base, according to architect Gordon A. Phillips.

William F. Nave of San Rafael is owner of the new bowling center, to be called Nave Lanes.

"No expense is being spared," said Phillips. The alley will feature a nursery for baby-sitting while you bowl; a pool room, restaurant and a bar done in Roman motif.

Construction is expected to be finished early in September.

Jewish Center To Hold Purim Fete

Purim, the Jewish festival based on the Biblical book of Esther, will be celebrated at the Marin Jewish Community Center with two holiday programs for children from 3 through 12 years of age.

On Sunday afternoon, children from 6 to 12 who belong to the center's after-school club program will have a Purim party from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Pre-schoolers beyond their birthday will join members of the center's nursery school for a Purim masquerade party on Monday, from 1 to 2 p.m. They will attend in costume.

Hearing On Pt. Reyes Plan Shifted To Marin

The U. S. Senate's public hearing on the proposed Pt. Reyes national recreation area will be held in Marin County, not in San Francisco, on April 14, the Independent-Journal was informed today.

A subcommittee of the Senate Interior Committee will hold a day-long hearing, starting at 9:30 a.m., in College of Marin's Olney Hall in Kentfield, according to Rep. Clement W. Miller's office.

The change was agreed to after Chairman Walter R. Castro of the county board of supervisors wrote to Washington requesting, on behalf of the board, that the meeting be held in the county. Sen. Clair M. Engle and Miller made the request to Sen. James A. Murray (D-Mont.), the committee chairman, and he agreed.

Presiding at the meeting will be Sen. Frank Moss (D-Utah).

Castro said today that the Marin supervisors would discuss on Tuesday the possibilities of holding a public hearing before the board prior to the Senate hearing. The supervisors are on record as opposing the park project, but proponents insist they have never had an opportunity to present their case to the supervisors.

State Resources Chief Speaks In Marin Tonight

DeWitt Nelson, director of the California Department of Natural Resources, will speak on "Man Vs. Nature in Marvelous Marin" at tonight's annual dinner meeting of the Marin Conservation League.

This occasion, 26th in the history of the group, will be at 6:30 p.m. in the dining hall of the College of Marin.

A color and sound film on the proposed league-sponsored Pt. Reyes national recreation area, "An Island in Time" by Laurel Reynolds and Mindy Willis, will be shown for the first time in Marin.

The Nelson talk and film presentation will start at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall, adjacent to the dining hall. No charge will be made for the program.

Novatan Faces Sonoma Trial On Assault Count

A 26-year-old Novato man will be tried in Santa Rosa Municipal Court next Thursday on charges of assaulting a Sonoma County deputy sheriff.

Willie O. Novak, a machinist of 842 Wilmac avenue, pleaded innocent in court today to the assault and battery charge and to charges of disturbing the peace, failing to heed order for a group to disperse at a riot, participating in a riot and resisting arrest.

The charges grew out of a fight last Sunday at the Ranch Inn in Santa Rosa. According to the Sonoma County sheriff's office, Novak beat up Deputy Sheriff Paul Ahern, 49. Ahern suffered a shoulder dislocation and is under a doctor's care.

Another Marin man, Bobby Joe Boyd, 27, of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, was arrested by Marin sheriff's deputies yesterday and turned over to Sonoma in connection with the same fight.

Boyd pleaded guilty in Santa Rosa Municipal Court today to charges of disturbing the peace and assault. His case was continued for a probation officer's report March 24.

Sonoma County deputies are looking for other men allegedly involved in the same ruckus.

COLLEGE

ier in the week, said the closed meeting was requested "for consideration of the reappointment of probationary teachers," a legal purpose.

Just prior to the executive session, Austin passed out to board members manila folders containing some preliminary budget remarks. Asked if this matter was to be considered at any time during the evening, Kempf replied, "No, I'd like to take this home and consider it in the quiet of my arm chair."

Trustee George G. Washburn commented that the matter was not officially before the board.

Earlier during the meeting, the board came to this agenda item: "Consideration of committee reports which have been filed with the board."

It developed there were three reports prepared by committees of the faculty: scholarships, counseling and guidance and certificated personnel.

Washburn immediately said he would like the board to take up the reports "in conference." There followed a discussion of whether the reports should be considered at one meeting or several.

PROPOSES DINNER

Mrs. Deedy proposed a potluck supper to be followed by a conference among trustees and members of the committees.

The reporter then asked Kempf if the public would be barred. Kempf said the scholarship meeting would be closed. He said he didn't think a discussion of the students should be public. Clymer added that such meetings have never been open.

The reporter then asked Kempf if the counseling and guidance session would be closed. He said he thought that one could be attended by the public after the scholarship matter had been disposed of.

Mrs. Deedy said the state Education Code prohibits giving information on scholarship meetings, and asked the reporter to confer with Austin on the code.

Austin offered no comment, and discussion among the board and faculty plainly showed that the whole meeting would be private. The board decided a conference would be held later on teaching personnel.

The board and faculty then decided they would meet for a bite to eat at 5:30 p.m. Monday, at the college, and that the public would be barred. Clymer then said loudly that the board was invited to the meeting by the faculty, and Kempf accepted.

FACULTY MEET

This morning, when Austin was asked to cite chapter and verse of the Education Code that made it mandatory for a secret meeting, he said it was a faculty meeting and the faculty could invited whomever they want. He said the code covers the meetings of elected officials but not the faculty.

Mrs. Deedy said she thought the board made a mistake last night in not clarifying the situation, and making it plain that it was not calling the meeting, and board members were to be guests of the faculty.

'AWKWARD'

She said the board "gets into awkward situations" in "seriously trying to cover" important reports. They are presented, she said, and then "just pile up, and keep being put off." She said the board needed time to discuss them and iron them out.

As regards the Education Code, the Brown Act says: "The provisions of this chapter shall apply to the legislative body of every local agency notwithstanding the conflicting provisions of any other state law."

State law also says deliberations of public bodies should be public, and that has been interpreted by competent authorities to include all types of committee meetings, and that no subterfuge for such meetings is legal.

PROBABLY IT WAS JUST HIBERNATING

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—How do you revive a half-frozen pet hamster found in the crisping tray of a refrigerator?

That question was asked by a Charleston woman in a call to a member of the conservation department's education division.

A department employee countered by asking how the hamster got into the refrigerator.

The woman explained her little girl had decided to give the pet a "room of its very own" and had selected the crisping tray.

The only answer to the dilemma appeared to be to "thaw out" the hamster. The department said the little animal apparently was doing well.

said, would me "an abuse and an excess" of gubernatorial power in view of the Legislature's refusal of the death penalty abolition bill and the state Supreme Court's refusal to recommend commutation of Chessman's death sentence.

Brown declined to answer, however, when asked if he would follow the court's recommendation if it should reverse itself on another commutation plea.

The governor said the Senate Judiciary Committee gave his proposal to abolish the death penalty a fair hearing. (The measure was killed on an 8-7 vote.) He disclosed the expenses of out-of-state witnesses testifying on behalf of his bill will be paid by himself or others—not from state funds.

Three-Car Bump Injures Two

Early morning sunshine and a moment's inattention while adjusting a sun visor caused a driver on Highway 101 near Sausalito yesterday to bump the car ahead, which in turn shunted into a third vehicle, according to the California Highway Patrol. Two suffered minor injuries.

Richard N. Bon, 30, of 11 Laurel avenue, Belvedere, reported he reached to adjust his visor as traffic ahead suddenly halted. His rammed into a car driven by Rufus Leo Crowe, 54, of 45 Midway avenue, Mill Valley, whose passenger Mrs. Anne Perez, 46, of 97 Ryan lane, Mill Valley, later received emergency treatment for cuts and bruises at the Ft. Mason dispensary.

The Crowe car hurtled against a vehicle driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Rinehardt Perrine, 48, 112 Sycamore avenue, Mill Valley. Mrs. Perrine also suffered minor injuries but said she would obtain medical attention for herself.

Whatever You Call It, It's Still Lousy

The word is "pediculous," not "ridiculous."

Victor E. Hecht, chairman of the Sausalito Planning Commission said today he was misquoted by the Independent-Journal.

At Wednesday's meeting of the commission, he referred to a fellow commissioner's statement regarding the building of over-water apartments at Shelter Cove. Gilbert P. Murphy had said, "I think this is a lousy thing for the area."

Hecht, quoted as saying, "I think there is a much better word than lousy—it's 'ridiculous,'" said today that he had realy said, "it's 'pediculous.'" "I think it is a better synonym," he said. "It means lousy."

14-Year-Old HAFB Girl Vanishes

The 14-year-old daughter of a senior master sergeant at Hamilton Air Force Base has been missing since Wednesday night, the base reported today.

Senior M/Sgt. and Mrs. F. A. Halloran of Quarters 557-D at the base asked assistance of peace officers and the public throughout Northern California in locating their daughter, Grace Patricia.

Wednesday night, she attended a dance at the teen-age club at the base. Shortly after 10:30 p.m., the 17-year-old son of a Hamilton captain drove her and some other teen-agers as far as the Capehart Housing area. She alighted from his car there to walk the rest of the way home, about a half mile. She has not been seen since.

Grace was described as 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing 134 pounds. She has light brown hair, cut short wtih bangs. Her eyes are blue.

When she vanished, she was wearing a two-piece blue dress with white leatherette vest, a long brown tweed coat and plain pumps. She had no hat and no purse.

Water Director To Run Again

William C. Herup, veteran member of the Marin Municipal Water District board of directors, announced today he is seeking re-election to the post.

He filed his candidacy with County Clerk George S. Jones this morning. Herup has been on the water district board for the past 18 years.

Currie said water began pouring into his boat after he left Sausalito for Richmond, where he usually berthed the craft.

He tried to send a distress signal by blinking his flashlight. When that failed, he tore off his shirt and set fire to it atop the cabin.

As the boat sank lower and lower, he leaped off, then decided the shore was too far away and climbed back into boat. Later, when he saw the shore about 400 yards away, he leaped out again, he said. It took him 45 minutes to swim to the rocks, he estimated.

Currie said he had been visiting friends last night in Tiburon, but did not name the friends.

Tam Citizens To Tour High School Campuses

A tour of the Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake high school campuses will be made tomorrow by the citizen advisory committee for Tamalpais Union High School District.

The 30-member committee, studying the district's building and financial needs, will start the tour at 9 a.m. at Drake High. Robert E. Rogers of Sausalito is chairman.

Hearing Slated On Charge Of Selling Beer To Minors

Richard O. Freeman and Courtland T. Mudge, owners of Sausalito's Old Town Coffee Shop, are scheduled to answer an accusation of selling beer to two minors at an Alcoholic Beverage Control Department hearing in the San Rafael City Hall on April 13.

Sausalito police arrested Patrick L. Doyle, 20, and James J. Nagy, 19, on charges of drinking beer on the premises Dec. 11.

This is the second time within the year the Sausalito beer house has been on the carpet with Alcoholic Beverage Control authorities.

Last August the tavern's license was suspended for 15 days on charges of consumption after hours and unlawful possession of liquor for which the establishment is not licensed, said a department agent.

Solon Bars Rights Bill Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attemtp by Senate leaders to fix a time for voting later today on a civil rights bill amendment was blocked today by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.).

Javits was a chief sponsor of the unsuccessful move Thursday to limit all debate, and Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) called the New Yorker's action today "an amazing reversal of form" by civil rights advocates who have accused Southern senators of filibustering to block action on the legislation.

The amendment up for action, sponsored by Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) would make it a federal crime to interfere by threats or force with federal court orders in all types of cases.

Smoke At County Jail Causes Scare

Smoke pouring out of the county jail set off a fire scare about 5:45 a.m. today, but it turned out to be old rags smoldering inside the bowl of a discarded commode.

Deputy Sheriff Martin T. Novitski was called into the cell block and found smoke pouring out of the commode, sitting outside the drunk tank. Old paint rags were burning inside the bowl.

San Rafael firemen helped clear out the smoke by using an exhaust fan.

"I respectfully suggest that an ordinance designed to control this situation be passed by your body."

(The county has a leash law, on the books for several years, which prohibits dogs running at large in the unincorporated areas. The board of supervisors has no control over the 10 incorporated cities.)

INCOME TAX FACTS

Rental Of Parsonage Not Subject To Levy

Ministers are not required to pay tax on the rental value of a parsonage furnished to them, or the money paid to them as an allowance for a parsonage, provided that they actually spend the money for a parsonage.

Peter J. Wikel

If money is paid to the minister instead of furnishing a parsonage, the employing church or other qualifying organization must take some official action to designate the amount of rental allowance. This can be in the employment contract, or in the minutes of the organization, or by a resolution of the organization. This action must be taken before the payment is made.

Any such rental allowance must be spent to rent or provide a home, otherwise any amounts not so used must be included in gross income and the tax paid.

Rental allowances will be deemed to have been used to provide a home if they are used to (1) rent a home, (2) purchase a home and (3) for expenses directly related to providing a home. Expenses for food and servants are not considered as being directly related to providing a home for this purpose.

Where a minister rents, or purchases or owns a farm or other business property in addition to a home, the portion of the rental allowance used in connection with the farm or other business property is taxed.

Since payments on a home are allowable, this gives the minister a chance to accumulate an equity in a home, with tax-free income.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

Here in the U. S. we have the greatest choice of food in the world . . . and probably the greatest number of diets to keep us from enjoying it. A news story reports that American men are losing the battle of the bulge. The national waistline is on a rising curve. 74% of all belts sold in 1946 were size 34 or smaller . . . now less than 50% are 34 or smaller. That's as revealing as a broken window shade. Good home cooking is bringing out what the drill sergeant tried to make the boys pull in. A simpler survey could have been made by peeking into the nation's clothes closets. They're probably filled with uniforms of ex-soldiers, sailors and marines who couldn't get into them now . . . even with a Presidential order.

A fancy men's store in New York advertised two linen handkerchiefs at $115 each . . . but nobody bought them. What a blow! And an expensive mistake. You, too, can make an expensive mistake if you let a small noise in your car's motor develop into a major repair job. Before that happens, bring your car to the J. E. French Co. Our expert mechanics will find and fix that trouble quickly, saving you large repair bills in the future. And while your car is in the shop, use the time for a test drive in the new 1960 Dodge-Dart. Cal Vs. Broncs Tonight In Regionals; Game To Be TV'd

SEATTLE (UPI)—Top-ranked California goes after Santa Clara tonight to start action in a tournament which will decide the western division's candidate for the NCAA Basketball Championship.

Utah faces Oregon in the second game, and the likely results will produce a showdown for the regional title tomorow between Pete Newell's Golden Bears and Jack Gardner's Utes.

The Utah coach figured the draw for tonight gave him a break, "and it's about time." Three times before Gardner has taken good teams to the regionals only to have them knocked out of contention the first night by the team which went on to win the tourney. Last year, it was California.

As for Newell, who chews towels to control his nerves, every game is a scare, even when his Bears are winning by 30 points.

California has a 25-1 season's record and All-America Darrall Imhoff to frighten Coach Bob Feerick and his Broncs who have won 21 and lost eight this season. But the Broncos showed they are tough to handle when they jumped into a tie for the west coast athletic conference and defeated Loyola of Los Angeles in a playoff.

(The Cal-Bronco game will be televised to the San Francisco Bay Area by KTVU, Channel 2, and broadcast by Radio KSFO starting at 7:30 o'clock).

The young and speedy Utah squad, with a starting lineup which will be around next year, has lost only twice in 27 games. The Utes' scoring record makes them heavy favorites over the Oregon Ducks, top independent team of the Pacific Northwest with an 18-9 record.

Gardner hopes his good fortune in drawing an opponent other than California for tonight carries a fine chance for an upset.

Against California's Imhoff and Bill McClintock, two All-Pacific Coast players, Gardner has a sensational sophomore in Bill (The Hill) McGill and a fine junior guard in Al Holmes. Imhoff at 6-10 stands only an inch taller than McGill.

"Imhoff will have his hands full," promised Gardner with the hope it will be Cal against Utah in the regional final tomorrow. "We played Ohio State this year and they had a pretty fair ballplayer in (All-America) Jerry Lucas. McGill played him to a standoff. They both got 17 rebounds, Lucas scored 32 points and McGill finished with 31."

Marin Beaten In State J.C. Cage Tourney

"It wasn't that they were so good; it's just that we played rather poorly."

That was how Coach Cal Riemcke of College of Marin summed up his Tars' first round loss to Los Angeles City College, 73-56, last night at San Jose in the California Junior College Basketball Championships.

Riemcke added: "Against a team of L.A.'s caliber we would have had to play a perfect game—and didn't."

The Tar mentor said L.A. was better than any team in his Golden Valley Conference, but not as good at the California Frosh or Oakland City College, which Marin met earlier in the season.

L.A.'s victory was not as easy as the final 17-point advantage indicates, for with only five minutes remaining Marin trailed by only six points. "However," Riemcke noted, "we went into a lapse, threw the ball away a couple of times, and that quick L.A. club took advantage to pull away."

ANDERSON HIGH

Marin, paced by forward Kenny Anderson, rallied several times to close in on the front-running southerners, but those lapses ruined the Tars' chances of victory.

Anderson wound up with 19 points, tying L.A.'s Leroy Finner for game honors. Ken Gelatti turned in Marin's best all-around performance, Riemcke added.

L.A. meets Fullerton and San Jose City College tackles Allan Hancock tonight in the semi-finals. Fullerton downed San Francisco City College, 73-65; Hancock rolled over Santa Barbara State, 96-59 and San Jose whipped Bakersfield, 89-76 in last night's other first round games.

DeMaestri Impresses Stengel, May Win Yanks' Regular Shortstop Job

Folks who expect Marin's Joe DeMaestri to be no more than a steady bench warmer for the New York Yankees may be in for a surprise when the American League championship season opens next month.

That the San Anselman may play an important role in the Yankee organiation this year was noted in a recent story in the New York Times. Under an eight-column banner that read: "DeMaestri Gains Important Role In Stengel's Plan For Shifting Players," the story said the former Kansas City shortstop, obtained by N. Y. in a winter trade, has excelled in early training and has caught Manager Casey Stengel's eye. "A pretty good infielder, this feller," Casey was quoted. "And a pretty steady guy to have around should some of my other moves fail to work out so well."

THIS IS a significant statement, for the Yankees said last December that DeMaestri was just thrown in for the trade and that they may swap him off to some other team. Now it definitely looks like the lanky former Tam High star will be a Yankee for the rest of the season.

Times Correspondent John Dreginger wrote: "It could happen that on opening day of the championship season DeMaestri will see his name inscribed in Stengel's handwriting as the Bombers' shortstop."

DeMaestri's hopes to become the regular shortstop depend on a number of moves Stengel has in mind. They concern the outfield, where Casey at the moment plans to play Roger Maris, who went to N. Y. with DeMaestri in that trade, in left field and Hector Lope in right. But if Maris, who already has expressed a preference for playing in right, fails to make it in left, Stengel will have to resort to some more shifting.

DEMAESTRI, during the past nine years in the A. L., has developed into a highly-dependable shortstop, having won the league's defensive title for two years.

Catcher Yogi Berra was quoted as saying, "I don't recall ever seeing Joe make a bad throw."

Nearly all the Yankee coaches told Author Drebinger that if DeMaestri can lift his batting average about 10 or 20 points, he will rate with the best shortstops in the game. But that has been his one flaw. In nine seasons he never has hit higher than .255 and that was with Kansas City six years ago. Last season he batted a modest .244 for K. C.

So keep your fingers crossed that Joe's name will appear regularly in the Yankee box score this year and that we will be seeing him in action at Candlestick Park around World Series time.

Woman Gets First Ace At Marin Club

Mrs. R. J. Donnelly of the California Golf Club yesterday made history. She became the first woman to record a hole-in-one at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

Competing in the Marin club's guest day tournament, Mrs. Donnelly aced the 130-yard 15th hole, using a four-wood. Her witnesses were Mesdames E. H. Fohrman of the host club and Kay Rose and H. E. DeLong of the Presidio club.

Low gross in the tourney was won by Mrs. Aubey Babson with 89. Low net was Mrs. Herb Prodger with 92-25—67.

Class A—Mrs. A. W. Boscacci, 92-15—77; Mrs. Hal White, 94-16—78; Mrs. K. Rose, 98-19—79.

Class B—Mrs. I. A. Hansen, 101-24—77; Mrs. Fred Ahnert, 100-20—80; Mrs. Robert Vannucci, 107-26—81.

Mick Ends Holdout, Signs For $66,000

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Mickey Mantle ended his holdout today and signed with the New York Yankees for an estimated $66,000.

Mantle's signing ended the Yankees' most serious player-salary squabble since the days of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio.

The muscular 28-year-old outfielder thus accepted a cut of about $5,000-$6,000 from his 1959 salary of $72,000. General Manager George Weiss originally had asked Mantle to take a much larger salary slash following a mediocre 1959 season.

Mantle made a surprise appearance in the Yankee training camp yesterday after steadfastly maintaining that he would not leave his home in Dallas until his terms were met.

He signed today after a 10-minute talk with Weiss .

POOR SEASON

Mantle's batting average fell to .285 last season, his lowest since he joined the club permanently in 1951. He hit 31 homers and drove in 75 runs, both comparatively low figures for him.

Weiss had been annoyed not because of Mantle's salary demands but by his "attitude." The Yankee boss felt that Mantle should have come to camp much earlier to negotiate his contract.

Instead Mantle stayed away and looked after his bowling alley in Dallas and his motel in Joplin, Mo., until his surprise appearance in camp yesterday.

Griffith 9-5 Choice Over Moyer On TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, a pro less than two years, today was rated a surprising 9-5 favorite over Denny Moyer, a West Coast youngster who fought and lost in a welterweight title fight.

The two, well-regarded 147-pounders clash in the 10-round radio-television (NBC 7 p.m., PST) feature at Madison Square Garden tonight.

When the match first was made, they were rated at 6-5 and pick 'em odds. But in the last day or two the so-called smart money has swung over to the 22-year-old Haiti-born New Yorker. Despite the odds, it appears difficult to choose between the two, once-beaten contenders.

Moyer, now 20, was only 19 when he dropped a 15-round decision to Welterweight Champion Don Jordan in a title fight.

That's the only defeat of his 31-month pro career. His record is 24-1 including seven knockouts. He is from Portland, Ore.

Griffith, in 21 months of fighting for cash, has posted a 16-1 record, including six kayos. His only loss was to middleweight Randy Sandy, a six-foot, experienced middleweight.

TAM WHIPPED IN OPENER OF TOURNEY

Tamalpais Indians last night ran up against an outstanding Richmond High basketball squad and suffered a 57-27 thrashing in the first round of the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley.

A story, box score and pictures of that game appear on page 13.

Tonight at 6 o'clock the Indians will seek some consolation in a game against the North Bay League's Santa Rosa Panthers. If the Indians win they will return to further consolation action tomorrow, but a loss tonight would eliminate them from further play.

'Blind Partnership' Play At Meadow Club

It was a rough day for women golfers at the Meadow Club yesterday in spite of ideal weather. Even the fairways were rough for the tournament called, "Blind Partnership," and with good reason, as the scores will attest:

Mesdames Carl Boegershausen (Captain) and Edward Bunting 165, Hale-Hunter-Edward Vest 165; J. S. Harrison-M. E. Strom, 167; F. McMurray- E. M. Brown 168 and John Weitel-William St. Sure 169.

BERKELEY (UPI)—The unbeaten California Bears scored their fifth straight baseball victory yesterday by walloping Chico State, 19-2. The Bears scored 13 runs on six hits in the fifth inning.

Giant Batting Champ? Mays, Cepeda, McCovey To Battle For The Honor

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX — If you were asked to pick the leading batter for the Giants in 1960, who'd you name?

Right now the choice narrows to three players—Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda.

The odds, based on past performances, have to favor Cepeda. He led the club in 1959, barely nosing out Mays. But in 1958 Mays hit .347 and could do it again this year.

But now that McCovey starts off as a regular he may throw a monkey wrench into calculations.

No one doubts McCovey's hitting prowess. He is just beginning to get his strength. When Willie showed up at Phoenix in 1958 he weighed a scant 170. Last year he tipped the scales at close to 200, but today the kid steps on the scales and shakes the cross bar nicely at 215 pounds.

"That extra weight on a frame like McCovey's can't do him anything but good," Manager Bill Rigney was saying in a fanning bee.

"HE CAN pack 15 or 20 more pounds and not lose his speed. Every pound he puts on now is in his favor."

Mays, McCovey and Cepeda have to be considered the choices for the batting leadership on the Giant roster. But President Horace Stoneham goes a little farther than that. He predicts Mays has a great chance to lead the league in hitting.

"I look for Mays to have his greatest season in Candlestick Park," Stoneham declared yesterday. "He's going to be happier in the big field and besides he wants that World Series loot. If Willie has his best year everybody on the club will profit by it. He's that kind of an inspiring player."

STONEHAM prefers to have the correspondents here talk about the players rather than the owners or top brass. But he has a kind word for all his men.

"Any one of our infielders and, of course, McCovey could get in a batting streak and never be headed," Stoneham says. "And as far as I'm concerned I hope they all do it together."

One of the big things the Giant owner likes about training in Arizona is the heat.

"We got off to a flying start the last two years because our players were in shape," Stoneham said in recalling the quick takeoff of the clubs in 1958 and 1959.

"This year I'm hoping we repeat and never look back.

"ARIZONA weather is great for athletes. Why most of our young fellows are in shape right now. I've been watching Sam Jones out there and, believe me, I think he's ready to start a ball game right today."

In a pool of Giant officials during a huddle the other evening I queried Stoneham, Eddie Brannick, road secretary and Publicist Garry Schumacher as to the number of complete sellouts the club could expect in 1960.

"As long as we're guessing I'd say 20 times," said Stoneham.

"Put me down for 25 times," Brannick said, "and two of those will occur opening day and the first Sunday."

"There'll be so many crowds of 35,000 that it's going to be hard to determine what you mean by a sellout crowd," explains Schumacher.

"BUT IN guessing I'd say we'll have at least 15 times when there won't be a vacant seat in the park."

The Giants play 76 dates at home, one of them being a double-header. To hit a two million attendance they must average close to 30,000 per game.

"Not many clubs hit two million a season," Schumacher summing up the few times Milwaukee, Cleveland and the Yankees did it. So if we have an average of 30,000 a game we'll be up there with the elite of baseball."

Come to think of it 20 sellout crowds of 45,000 could make the two million count rather a breeze.

Or could it?

Scanlon To Fight April 5 In Oakland

Lightweight Irish Bobby Scanlon, now under the management of two well-known Marin County restaurateurs, has signed for a 10-round bout with Oakland's Johnny Gonsalves at Oakland Auditorium on April 5, it was announced yesterday.

Scanlon, making a comeback after a period of inactivity during which he lost his place in the world's top 10 ratings, will train at Rancho Nicasio. Nick Kobseff, owner of the Rancho, and Lou Sabella of Sabella's Restaurant in southern Marin, recently purchased Scanlon's contract.

FANCY BOXER

Gonsalves, a fancy boxer with a light punch, edged Scanlon in their first match last April 9—and surprised his fans by decking the Irishman. Gonsalves retired after a recent loss to Paolo Rosi, but announced later he was always available for "money shots." His first match with Scanlon drew 4,200 fans and grossed $12,997.

Scanlon has a 33-4-1 record, and lost his last bout to Mexican Champion Alfredo Urbino.

Jones Elected To Head Pony League

J. Paul Jones was elected president of the San Rafael Pony Baseball League Wednesday night at a meeting of parents and officials.

Dr. Malcolm Findley was named vice president, Mrs. Roderick Chisholm treasurer and Charles J. Hendrickson secretary.

Others named to the board of directors were Alex Bovee, Stanley Lemish and M. J. Pandiani.

Player registration will take place Friday, March 18, 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, March 19, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Albert Park administration building.

Marin Pin Tournament Opens Tomorrow With Record Entry

Twelfth annual Marin County Bowling Assn. Tournament starts tomorrow and entry records will fall along with the pins.

Tourney Director John Hellwege said the entry roster shows 117 five-man teams, 161 doubles and 322 singles—"By far the largest we've ever presented."

Team events will be rolled at the 40-lane Country Club Bowl in San Rafael while the singles and doubles will take place at the 24-lane Greenbrae plant.

Most action will take place tomorrow and Sunday and the following weekend, although some teams will compete during the week in their regular league schedule.

CASH PRIZES

Cash and trophy prizes will be awarded to team, doubles, singles and all-events leaders. Assisting Hellwege in the tremendous job of staging such a large tournament has been Clay Anderson, veteran secretary of the association.

First squads will start rolling at noon tomorrow.

A man who has bowled more than 30 perfect "300" games will appear in San Rafael Sunday to battle a local champion in a five-game exhibition match at Country Club Bowl, Manager Dave Rivera announced yesterday.

He is Bob Russell, a representative of the Brunswick Co. who presently is residing in Santa Rosa. The match is one of several being arranged to help Russell make a comeback from a serious stomach operation recently. He is scheduled to appear in a national television match on May 21.

Rivera said he scheduled a local bowler to oppose Russell in Sunday's match starting at 4 o'clock.

Russell has a total of 17 sanctioned 300 games and 14 more unsanctioned perfectos to his credit. Before his illness Russell carried a 216 average in Detroit leagues.

R. FORTINI hit a 217 and 594 this week in the Monday Night Men's Handicap at Greenbrae Lanes. Other high marks were Roe Golsch 560, Phil Dunning 559-207, Paul DeMartini 548, Bob Crowsurst 539 and Reed MacKenzie 512-210.

HELEN KIRCH led the YWCA hit parade at C.C. with a 450 total. Other team leaders were Effie Blanchard 381, Carole Wagner 382, Eleanor Daunt 372, Madoline Gardner 357 and Shirley Storbert 315.

FRANCES HATCHELL'S 204 is the season's high in the Hamilton NCO Wives League. Lory Amaral led the loop's latest honor roll with a 470 series.

JACK FARRAR'S 535-223 and Al Re's 495 led the men and Nini Firpo's 445-205 and Bert Tynes' 441 led the women Wednesday night in the Mixed Foursome League at C.C.

LAST NIGHT'S Mixed Doubles League at C. C. produced some tremendous performances, including a 643 series by Bernie Pillus and a 641 by Dick Wagner. Pillus wound up his series with a booming 255 after hitting 187 and 201. Wagner led off with a 248 and followed it with 203 and 190.

Doug McMurtry, a 122 average bowler, went way over that mark with a sizzling 242 along with 169 and 135 for a 546.

TEAM LEADERS in the Greenbrae Women's Handicap were Marge Scott 490-193, Lou Ahrens 479, Sharon Benson 464, Julie Smith 460, Pat Yeager 425, Marilyn Epidendio 418, Stormy Steed 407, Rosalie Johnson 382, Arlene Fitts 376 and Georgia Rebello 369.

SAM PILLUS (545), Mac Koch (533), Bob Brinton (520) and Nick Nacca (507) were the leaders in the Koch League at Greenbrae.

NEWELL TO GET AWARD SUNDAY IN NEW YORK

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's Pete Newell, coach of the defending NCAA basketball champions, will receive the United Press International "Coach of the Year" award in New York Sunday.

Newell will receive the award at the annual dinner of New York basketball writers, who will present him with the same honor.

He will come to New York from Seattle, Wash., where his team will participate in the NCAA Far West Regional Tournament. If the Bears win there they will enter the NCAA finals at the San Francisco Cow Palace March 18-19.

BABY BULL REPORTS TO GIANTS CAMP

PHOENIX (AP)—Orlando "Baby Bull" Cepeda, lone holdout of the San Francisco Giants, arrived at the National League club's training camp last night and announced he would sign Cepeda, who had said earlier that he had come to terms, reportedly will get $27,500 for his third year in the league.

"In three days, I ready to play," declared Cepeda, who flew here from his home in Puerto Rico.

He looked to be in great shape although he has played only 10 games since mid-January. He wound up the winter league with a .357 average.

The 22-year-old slugging left fielder said he weighed 210 pounds, five under his weight at the close of the season last year.

Cepeda played sparingly during the winter—not enough to win the batting championship—and feels that will enable him to stay fresh through the 154-game National League campaign.

He admitted he was tired at the end of last season when his big bat cooled and the Giants blew the pennant.

"We have to win it this year," the Baby Bull asserted.

Cepeda said, however, he wanted to work out today if he can get somebody to work with him.

The hitters were hitting in their last intra-squad game yesterday, much to Manager Bill Rigney's delight. The Eddie Bressouds exploded for a six-run first inning and a 9-3 victory over the Danny O'Connells, raking young Mike McCormick for seven consecutive hits in the big inning.

The winners collected four homers, three doubles and five singles, the losers two triples and two singles. Felipe Alou hit two of the home runs. Willie Mays and Andre Rodgers hit one each.

CHEVROLET

Out near Wathena, Kansas, farmer Milt Roundy tends 800 acres with only one helper—his 1960 Chevrolet pickup. The truck almost never runs on Kansas's fine state highways—instead it averages about 2,500 miles a month on unimproved back-country trails or on hauls into the fields, off the road. "In my book, these are the worst roads in the world," Mr. Roundy says, "but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out. It doesn't fishtail or whip around like other trucks — I can steer it with one finger!"

They're speaking right up, these owners of '60 Chevrolets. Everywhere you go, they're giving out glowing reports on a revolutionary new truck ride that leads to a bigger day's work at less expense; praising truck power that knows the most about saving money.

It's Chevy's total newness they're talking about. And you'll be talking, too, once you turn a new Chevrolet loose on your money runs. Your dealer can get you started, right away!

S.F. Sports Show 'Greatest Ever'

By ALFRED MATSON

Now past the halfway mark, the San Francisco Sport and Boat Show has already given proof positive that it is the greatest attraction ever to take over the stalls, judging rings and feedrooms of that erstwhile bovine habitat, the Cow Palace.

It is a marine spectacular with queenly sailboats edging the perimeter of the main auditorium, their multi-colored sails creating a beautiful, yet effective back curtain for the stage setting.

Majestic cruisers sit row upon row and seem to await the appearance of the proper prince, with the fat checkbook, to free them from their earthbound fetters.

Regrettably, our coverage of the show is quite tardy but that sneaky virus flu caught me a hefty one and laid me out as flat as a billiard table.

Yesterday, with the help of a white-coated attendant and my black thorn cane, we made our belated appearance at Tom Rooney's Fiesta Nautica. Rooney is the top man, and he laughs all the way to the bank, too. Fiesta Nautica isn't Spanish for Cow Palace, but it does have a nice sound.

Once within the portals the first object to attract our attention was quite frightening, at least at first glance. It appeared to be a mammoth insect of some sort, an emigre from outer space. Pale green and of a diaphanous nature, it was surrounded by a large crowd and seemed to be attempting to escape as it rose and fell on its spider-like legs and flopped a stubby pair of wings.

On closer inspection we were happy to discover that it was the revolutionary outboard creation by Evinrude called the Jetstream. The Jetstream is a 16-foot mahogany plywood conventional hulled boat that, when it reaches the optimum speed, two floats are lowered into the water, the main hull breaks clear and maximum speed is then attained. It is powered by an Evinrude Starflite 75 engine.

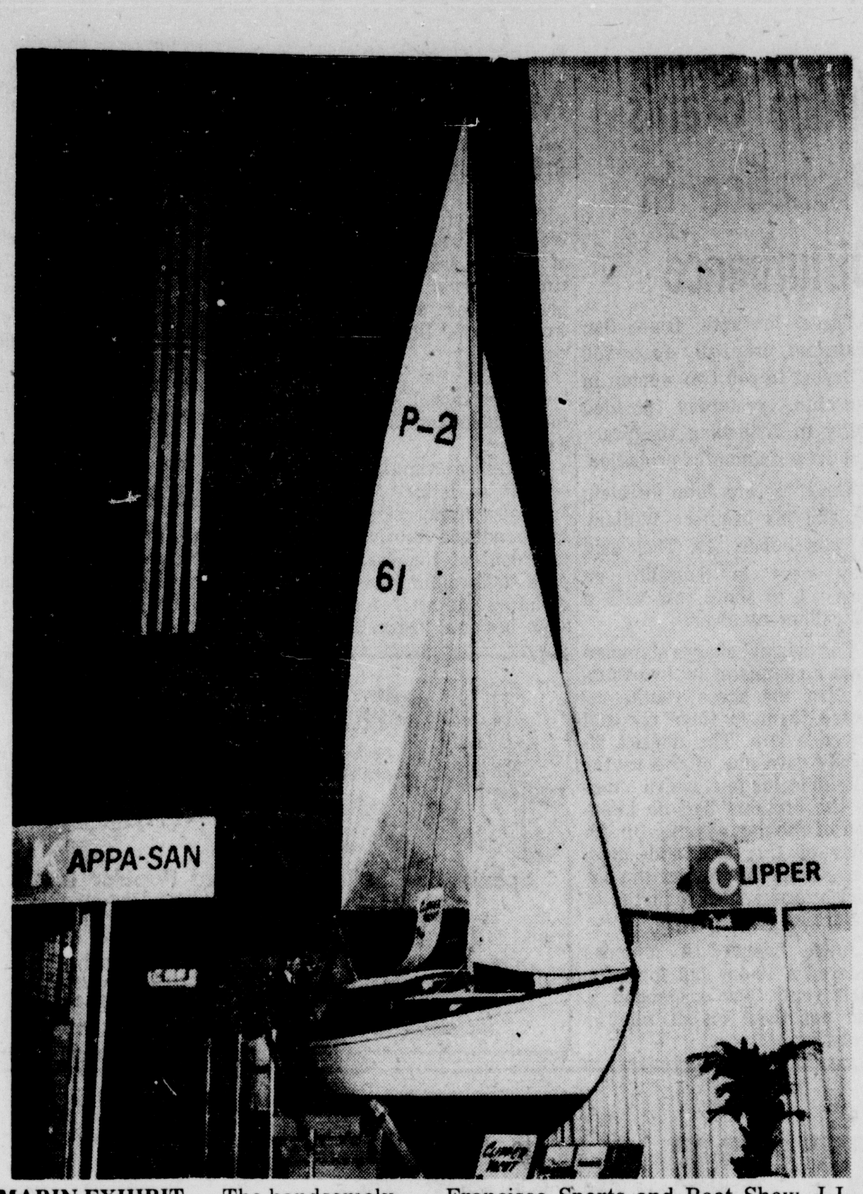
It is safe to say that if a man's interests were so diversified that anything and everything exhibited at the boat show could absorb his attention for 10 minutes in each instance he likely wouldn't see much more than half the show by the quitting hour, even on a full time basis for all 10 days.

Marin County builders and distributors are well to the fore front of the show's major displays. Longtime yachtsman Shirley Morgan of Sausalito's Clipper Sales has a handsomely designed cruising-racing sloop, the P28, on exhibition. It is a boat that could well prove the fruition of many a sailor's dream.

Owens Marine Sales of San Rafael has an impressive array of five attractive Owens cruisers, the biggest display at the Palace. Aero Marine Plastics of Sausalito, as promised, has the first of the new Tritons on show, as well.

An all-fibre glass 28-foot sloop, it has caught the eye of many of the visitors as the orders have been very active. And so it goes but, unfortunately, space does not permit a complete rundown at this time. More later.

But, better still, go over and see for yourself the wonders that have been wrought at the District Headquarters of the 1-A District Agricultural Assn.; that's the Cow Palace, amigo.



MARIN EXHIBIT — The handsomely designed cruising-racing sloop, P-28, a feature of Sausalito's Clipper Sales, is a popular attraction at the San Francisco Sports and Boat Show. I-J Yachting Editor Alfred Matson tells about the show in adjoining columns.

Demo Slate Favors Kennedy, Adlai

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson show early strength in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposed favorite son delegation to the Democratic national convention.

The slate was announced today, a day after the posting of the 70 Republican delegates for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The 162 Democratic delegates—each with a half vote—are pledged to Brown in the June 7 presidential primary, but the governor has said he's not a serious candidate.

That means California's 81 votes will be up for grabs after the first few ballots—if it comes to that—at the Los Angeles convention beginning July 11.

Assemblyman William A. Munnell, state party chairman, described the Brown slate—opposed only by two splinter groups — as "the most truly representative delegation that California Democrats have ever sent to a national convention."

An authoritative source—a key figure in putting the slate together—gave the Associated Press this breakdown of the delegation's probable preference for president:

Kennedy 35.
Stevenson 35.
Brown 20.
Sen. Hubert Humphrey 15.
Sen. Stuart Symington 12.
Sen. Lyndon Johnson 4.
Rep. Chester Bowles 3.
Uncommitted 38.

(Four Marin Democrats and two Marin Republicans were named official delegates. They are:

Democrats — Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kentfield, state Democratic committeewoman from California and automatically a delegate; Roger Kent of Kentfield, Northern California vice president of the Democratic State Central Committee; Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley, a member of the state central committee, and William Matson Roth of Sausalito, a steamship company executive.

Republicans — State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael and Elmer Worlund of San Anselmo, Marin County Republican Central Committee chairman, who will serve as an alternate delegate at large.

Voter Service Day Slated In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley League of Women Voters will hold a voters' service work day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Mill Valley Golf Club.

At this time, according to Mrs. Robert E. Wickersham, work will be done on two six-by-14-foot banners to publicize the candidates' night meeting March 29 at the city hall. Mrs. E. B. Gicker is doing the layout for the banners and, according to Mrs. Wickersham, there is a need for many people to help sew letters on the banners.

A luncheon symposium on November ballot measures will be held at the noon hour, presented by Mrs. Carl Book, Mrs. Wickersham, Mrs. Melvin Marlowe, Mrs. Sam Newsom and Mrs. Roger Lescohier.

Baby-sitting service will be available at 428 Throckmorton avenue, Mrs. Wickersham said.

Art Demonstration And Lecture Set At College

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, who was commissioned by an art supply firm to paint California's history, will give an oil painting demonstration and lecture to the students of College of Marin Tuesday.

Reitzel was commissioned artist-in-residence last summer by Winsor and Newton. His portfolio contains a record of everything from campus scenes to seascapes.

Four Marin Hospitals Receive Accreditation

Four hospitals in Marin County have been placed on the 1960 accredited list of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

They are Ross General Hospital, San Rafael General Hospital, Marin General Hospital and Charles L. Neumiller Hospital at San Quentin Prison.

Ross Council Balks At Cost Of Road Project

The Ross Town Council last night decided that proposed reconstruction of Sir Francis Drake boulevard would cost twice what the town could afford.

City Engineer John C. Oglesby recommended that the boulevard, from Ross Hospital to about 200 feet north of Bolinas avenue, be relaid and widened from its present 30 to 36 feet, and that the shoulders be strengthened. Oglesby estimated the cost of the project at $48,000.

The council balked. Ross receives only about $4,300 gasoline tax revenue yearly for street improvements. Mayor Arthur Kanzee Jr. instructed Oglesby to revise his plans to reduce cost to about half the original estimate and submit the revision to the state Division of Highways for approval.

"The boulevard's shoulders be strengthened where necessary. The road should stay as wide as it is, and only a two-inch overlay should be added to the stretch," ordered the mayor, with council agreement.

The city engineer also recommended that three new culverts, plus piping and fill, be put in along Laurel Grove avenue from Windy way to Canyon road. Oglesby said the present culverts are of 70-year-old deteriorated redwood.

Te said children play in them and there is danger the culverts will cave in. He estimated reconstruction cost at $17,000, which would include reinforced concrete culverts.

Councilman John McNab suggested redwood be used again to cut the cost. "That type of material must not be so bad; it has lasted for 70 years," he said.

Oglesby estimated use of redwood would reduce construction cost by $11,000.

The council decided to inspect the site before the next meeting.

In other matters, the Ross council:

1. Adopted an ordinance limiting height of buildings to 30 feet.
2. Adopted an ordinance prohibiting riding of horses, bicycles and motorcycles on paved sidewalks.
3. Adopted an ordinance requiring that any division of land must be approved as a subdivision.
4. Adopted an ordinance requiring wider frontages progressively as areas become larger.
5. Adopted a resolution naming Mayor Kanzee as alternate fiscal agent to authorize investment of town funds.

Judge Grants Probation In Disturbance

Three brothers from San Francisco, originally suspected of trying to rob two women in Sausalito, yesterday pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and drew six months probation.

The three are John Swintek, 22, and his brothers William, 21, and Robert, 19. They said they were in Sausalito on March 1 to shoot rats with a .22 caliber revolver.

The original charge stemmed from a complaint by two women that the three youths accosted them in their car and waved a gun. The district attorney gave one of the youths a lie detector test, which showed the brothers had no intention of robbing anyone. On the basis of this test and statements from the women, the district attorney filed a charge of disturbing the peace.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ordered a 10-day jail term for each youth but suspended it and put them on six months probation.

Marinites Offer Housing For Students From Kenya

College of Marin president Ward H. Austin told the board of trustees last night that Marin residents have offered housing for seven students from Kenya, British East Africa.

He said the response followed an appeal by him in an Independent-Journal story last week.

Austin previously had received a letter from Tom Mboya, a leader of the Kenya independence movement and president of the Nairobi People's Convention Party, recommending students for admission because "educational facilities and opportunities for Africans are seriously lacking in this country."

Board president Rupert E. Kempf said he had an offer of housing for four students at San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo.

"That would be ideal," said Austin, "but, of course, they would not be living in an American home."

Natives in the jungle interior of Africa prefer metal coins to paper money. Ants and rodents have overly eager appetites for paper currency.

GO, TEAM, GO—Early in the game, when Ray Edwards clicked for five straight points to give the Indians a lead, the Tam cheering section above was lively indeed as the southern Marin students were looking forward to an upset over Richmond. The Oilers soon took command, however, and raced to a 57-27 triumph.

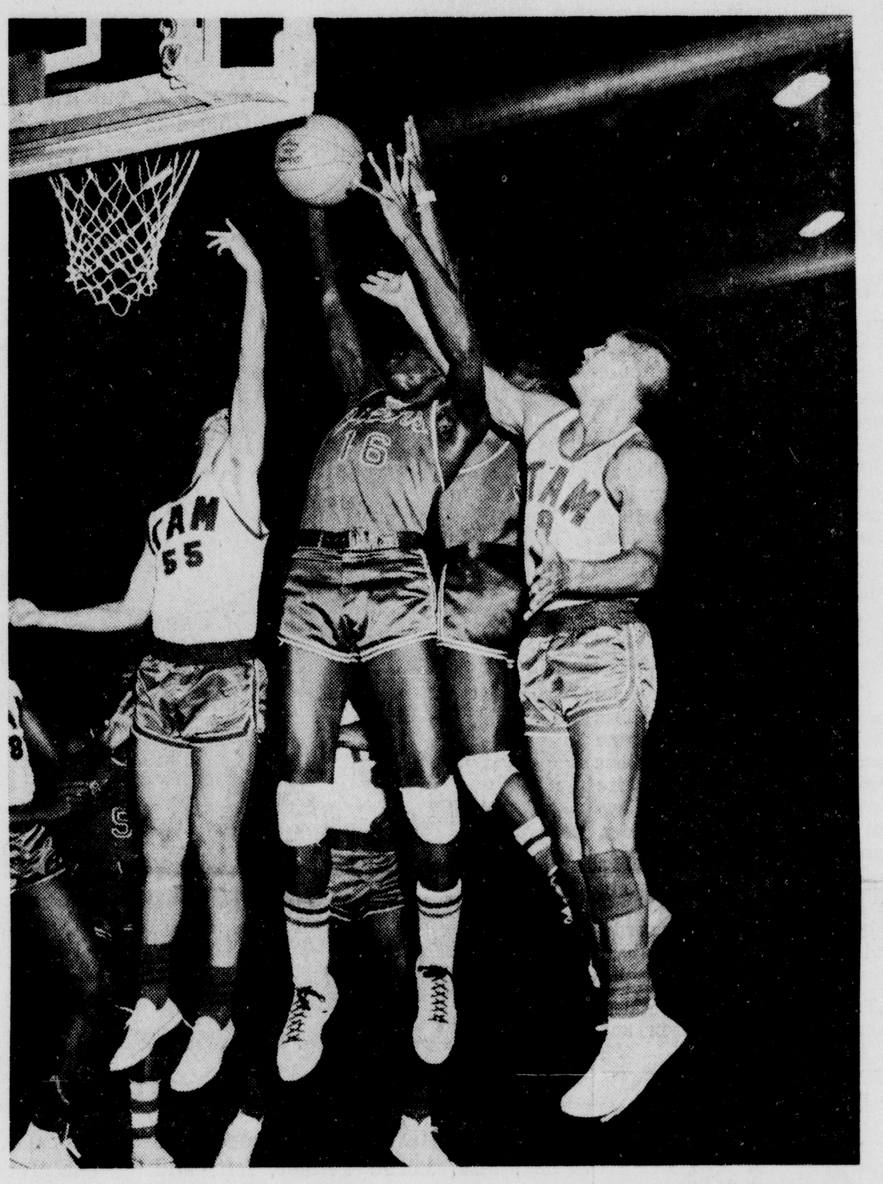
SPIRIT HIGH—Tam's cheer leaders were busy keeping the rooting section loud and clear throughout the game. Urging a big yell from left to right were Carolyn Thompson, Pete Mote, Gena Dazey and Tim Dreyfus.



HEIGHT ADVANTAGE — Richmond's Jim Moore (16) went up for rebound between Tam's Conrad Hoetger (55) and Norm Kreuter (9) in this first half action. Richmond's height advantage was in evidence all night as the Oilers completely dominated the backboards.

PEP TALK — Coach Eddie Chavez, former Santa Clara ace, gives his Tam Indians a pep talk and instructions during time out period.

Marin Champions Meet Santa Rosa In Consolation

Independent-Journal Sports

Friday, March 11, 1960 13

Center Alex Brown put on a one-man show last night to lead the Richmond Oilers to an easy 57-27 win over Ed Chavez's Tamalpais High School Indians in the opening round of the 13th annual high school Tournament of Champions basketball classic in Berkeley.

Santa Rosa, the North Bay League titlist, lost to San Francisco's St. Ignatius, 45-41 in last night's final game in the opening round. Earlier McClymonds downed Hayward, 47-40 for its 66th consecutive triumph and Clayton Valley ripped Monterey, 64-49. McClymonds is seeking its third straight T of C crown.

Brown, the 6-7 Oiler, pumped through 25 points in the overwhelming victory over the Mill Valley preps, taking high scoring honors for the day. Brown hit 10 of 12 shots from the floor, five charity tosses, and picked off 10 rebounds in leading all departments.

EDWARDS STARS

Tam's Ray Edwards kept the locals in the lead for the opening minutes, scoring the first five points; but Richmond knotted the score at five all.

From that moment on the cold Indians could never find the light, as Brown and Company went to work scoring the next 12 straight points for a 17-5 first period lead.

Again the Oilers struck, this time taking an 28-14 lead at the intermission. Going into the final period of play Richmond led, 44-22.

OILERS HOT

The Oilers hit 22 of 49 attempts from the floor for 45 per cent while the Indians could only mesh 11 field goals in 41 tries for 27 per cent. On the charity line the Indians made 5 of 17 tries, while the Oilers hit 13 of their 26 gift shots.

Edwards took home high point honors for the Indians with 15, seeing little action during the second half with four fouls; while Conrad Hoetger and Matt Simone followed their team-mate with four each.

Snow Wins Pair As Tam Mermen Triumph

Rick Snow won the 400-yard freestyle and the 200-yard individual medley Wednesday in pacing the Tamalpais High School swimming team to an 82½-12½ rout of Lincoln High in a practice meet at Tam. His times were 4 minutes, 48.9 seconds and 2:30.2, respectively.

Tam also won the Class B meet handily, 57-20.

OH WELL—Even after Tam's loss to Richmond these Tam students didn't appear too downhearted as they managed a smile and wave to photographer. While most Tam students went to the game in chartered buses, this group followed in a little Volkswagen bus.

Tamelpa Parlor Will Mark Pony Express Centennial

On April 1, 2 and 3 various activities will celebrate the Centennial of the Pony Express, one of the most exciting events in California history.

Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, made plans at its recent meeting in the Outdoor Art Clubhouse to participate in commemorating this event together with other parlors.

Plans include assisting in the dedication of plaques, handling the special postal cachet, and greeting departure and arrival of special jet flights to and from St. Joseph, Mo., at San Francisco.

Thirteen plaques will be placed during the three days of the celebration, and the order will participate in dedications at San Francisco, Folsom, Placerville and possibly Sacramento.

The postal cachet sponsered by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West will have a picture of the Pony Express rider in the lower left-hand corner of the envelopes, and a cancellation of 4 p.m., April 3, 1960, will be used by the San Francisco Post Office.

Information for anyone wishing to take advantage of this cachet includes: (1) Envelopes must be stamped and addressed, in packs of not more than 10; (2) They must be mailed to: Pony Express, c/o Native Sons and Daughters of the Goldden West, 414 Mason Street, San Francisco 2; (3) Deadline for arrival of envelopes will be March 31.

During the meeting of Tamelpa Parlor conducted by president Mrs. John C. Guth plans were also made for initiation of new members on March 22, and it was announced members and guests may still contact Mrs. Caroline Faustine, supervising district deputy grand president, for luncheon reservations on March 20 at Rubini's when grand president Maxiene Porter will be honored.

Serving refreshments after the meeting were Mesdames Malcolm Piper and Anthony Damazio.

Expert 'Hangs' Dinner Table That's Legless

NEW YORK (UPI) — An aircraft development engineer wants to cut the legs out from under American dining tables.

A working model of Walter R. Bush's guitar-shaped table was displayed at a recent food symposium here before going on a national tour of museums and department stores. The table, with a melamine top in a wood-grain finish, hangs from the ceiling on a series of slender rods placed so they don't interfere with across-the-table visibility.

Bush said he chose the guitar shape to seat two to eight diners "in sociable proximity."

Other innovations included a self-contained ceiling and table edge lighting system, a center well with a fountain for flower arrangements, a built-in telephone connection, twin electric warmers, and a pop-up television set. Switches for all these were concealed beneath the table.

Floor Waxes Wax Better Each Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Look for big improvements in self-polishing floor wax in the near future.

The wax will have a higher gloss, resist wear for several months, and regain initial shine with rebuffing, thanks to chemical advances in synthetic ingredients, says Dr. J. V. Steinle, research head of a wax manufacturing firm.

The wax also will be impervious to water spotting, even when soap is added to water. But it will come off easily if a "common chemical" is added to wash water, Steinle said.

Set Bridge Luncheon

Jewelry Expert Suggests Mixing

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Don't be stuffy and unimaginative about your jewelry wardrobe.

This advice comes from Joan Castle Joseff, who owns a jewelry rental service which supplies about 90 per cent of the pieces used in TV and movies.

Mix costume jewelry, such as gold, silver and platinum, Mrs. Joseff said. Combine antique and modern jewelry "as you would furniture in your home." Don't adhere to the rule of gold jewelry for daytime, diamonds for night.

If you must wear a watch at formal affairs, have one set in a diamond ring or a bracelet with a cover over the watch face.

"Pearls are unimaginative," Mrs. Joseff added, "and school jewelry, such as a class ring, indicates an emotionally immature person.

'Kaleidoscope' To Be Theme Of Yacht Auxiliary Fashion Show

The first event on the calendar of the Women's Auxiliary of the Sausalito Yacht Club which is a Luncheon-Fashion Show scheduled for 12:30 o'clock March 19 in the Gold Room of Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera, is well on its way to becoming a reality.

The theme "Kaleidoscope" suggested itself with the geometric designs and bright colors of many of the fashions being shown. Fashions are being furnished by a Kentfield shop.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Ted Schoonmaker of San Rafael who is assisted by Mrs. Gerald Melone of Larkspur. Commentary on the models and fashions will be narrated by Mrs. R. W. Hobart of Kentfield.

The fashions ranging from bathing suits and sports wear to dressy cottons and cocktail dresses will be modeled by Mesdames Roy Ashley of Corte Madera, Robert Creighton of Tiburon, Leonard Delmas of Tiburon, Peter Fromhagen of San Rafael, James Grisham of Sausalito, Miss Vicki Kirk of Sausalito, Mesdames Neil Munro of Sausalito, Ernest Perry of Corte Madera, Alvan Sargent of Sausalito, R. W. Whitaker of Sausalito and Bruce Williams of San Francisco.

The models will be assisted by Mrs. Carl Lischeske of Mill Valley and Mrs. Hal Scatena of San Francisco.

Mrs. Russell Wallace of Tiburon is handling tickets and reservations. Table decorations of colorful, geometric design carrying out the general Kaleidoscope theme are in charge of Mesdames Hugh Garrett of Belvedere, Willem Van Lienden of Sausalito, Fred Crawford of Corte Madera and Robert Flowerman of Tiburon. Receiving the guests will be Mesdames Fred Crawford of Corte Madera, John Sweeney of Sausalito, Jeremy Talmadge of Mill Valley, John Libbey of San Francisco, and Richard Hart of Tiburon.

Awards are being handled by Mrs. William New with ticket sales at the luncheon in the hands of teenagers Joyce Schoonmaker, Diane Kalbach, Laurie Beacock, Jill Henson and Beverly Helm. The young women are Auxiliary members' daughters and friends.

Proceeds from this Luncheon-Fashion Show will be added to the fund which will be used to purchase furnishings for the Sausalito Yacht Club's new clubhouse in Sausalito.

WITH 'KALEIDOSCOPE' as the theme of the Luncheon-Fashion Show, Mrs. F. P. Fromhagen, right, president of the Auxiliary, has a peek through the kaleidoscope while Mrs. Russell Wallace of Tiburon, left, chairman of the reservation committee, admires the colorful table decorations. Youth Baseball Auxiliary Elects New Officers

The Auxiliary to the San Anselmo youth baseball organization — Little League, Junior League and Senior League — has a new president and a new set of added fund-raising responsibilities.

Heading the Auxiliary in 1960 is Mrs. M. J. Kline. She succeeds Mrs. John Grey.

Vice president is Mrs. Don Young and secretary is Mrs. Marston Thall, wife of the League president.

The Auxiliary accepted two new tasks, both outgrowth of the group's increasing activities since it was formed four years ago. Henceforth, with the concurrence of the League's directors, the Auxiliary is responsible for all dances and other fund-raising activities. The women also have assumed the task of securing advertising for the San Anselmo ballpark fence.

Mrs. Kline said plans are being made for a dance in late April, probably a week in advance of the season opening scheduled the first week in May.

Flexible Form For Dressmakers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sure to be a hit with women who sew is a new dress form which "gives" like the human body, has flexible shoulders and can be stab-pinned.

Mounted on a wood pedestal for the correct height, the form is molded of a secret patented material, covered with a durable tubular material, and taped. Its flexibility makes remodeling easier than a rigid form, and garments can be put on and removed without leaving open a side seam or omitting a zipper.

The form is the brainstorm of Mrs. Louise Lowney of West Covina, Calif., who became aware of the need for such an invention while she was a fashion designer and teacher.

Mrs. Lowney makes the forms for business women, teen-agers, housewives, movie stars and dress designers. Some women order the form for their dressmakers' use or to sew for absentee children.

Student Program Slated Tuesday By Tam Hi P-TA

Election of officers and a program presented by American Field Service students will be highlights of Tamalpais High School P-TA meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school's little theater.

Proposed for officers on the slate submitted by a nominating committee headed by Dr. John Hoag are: Mrs. Richard De Lew, president; Mrs. H. W. Aunapu, first vice president; Richard Campion, second vice president; John Wilbert, third vice president; Robert Kent, fourth vice president; Mrs. Martin May, recording secretary; Herbert Bandes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Benjamin Deutsch, treasurer.

The program for the meeting will be the long anticipated report of American Field Service students. Gulzarin Agha from Pakistan, staying in the Mill Valley home of the Rex Allens, and Joseph Kergueno from France, living in Sausalito with the Charles Clear family, will tell their reactions to their senior year at Tam.

Then Tam students Lisa Mibach, who attended school in Italy for a semester, and Tom Mathews, who spent the summer with a German family, will give their impressions of the international way of life.

In order to make the P-TA meetings, programs and activities more meaningful to members those attended will be asked to jot down (signed or not) their ideas for future P-TA actions, suggestions, advice or comments.

THE BETTER HALF — by Bob Barnes

"My husband would like a new lid to flip."

Match Decor To Hair Colors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Match the shade of your home decor to your own coloring if you want compliments as a hostess.

If you have grown hair, you'll look your best in a setting of slightly grayed tones — soft greens and blues — and rosy tones or clear pastels.

Brilliant colors are effective backdrops for women with black hair. Red-haired women need white, golden yellow, rusty red, soft blue or gray rooms. Blondes accent dusty pastels and all soft shades. Gray hair looks soft and youthful against wine red or medium blue.

City Clothes

Summer city clothes include suits with the sleeveless look; ensembles with short jackets or three-quarter coats; belts, on some dresses, are low, and skirts, pleated.

Shop Makes Donations To Charities

Committee members of the Sausalito Salvage Shop held their regular monthly meeting on March 7 with Mrs. Alan H. Scurfield, chairman, presiding. Donations to charities included $50.00 each to the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin for use at Lucas Valley and the Marin County Heart Association.

In the absence of Mrs. Justin M. Day, "mother" to the Shop's orphans, Mrs. Harry A. Mohler read several letters from the children adopted under Foster Parents' Plan. The letters were from Korea and Greece, from among the eight children the Shop now aids.

Fixtures in the Princess Street shop have been re-arranged to accommodate a large showcase, the gift of a Sausalito merchant, and that enhances the display of "better" articles. Anyone wishing to donate saleable merchandise can have it picked up by calling the Shop.

Read The Labels

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Grocery shopping without reading labels is like a game of pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey, say four Cornell University extension specialists.

There's a product for every purpose, family and budget, they explained. The printing on a box of detergent becomes more vital as more detergents and fabrics become available. Lower grade, second quality food, such as meat, often should be used instead of a higher grade. The price tag may not be a guide to actual cost, because it is more important to know the cost per serving than cost per can, package or pound.

Fall Hair Style: Tossed, Impish

NEW YORK (UPI)—For a preview of what's ahead in hair styles, ponder hubby the next time he towel-dries his hair.

"That's you — by next August, if you are moving with the fashion trend," said Julius Caruso, hair stylist.

His hair raising prediction was made to the Lilt Reference Service, an organization devoted to the spreading of hair care information.

He's convinced that the hair-standing-on-end look will take hold before Halloween and that women who adopt it will have the "pertest, briefest little coif that has come along in a long time."

Silhouettes

Not in many a season have there been so many silhouettes as there are for summer, 1960. They are princess, long torso, tiers, tunics, gypsy flounce, bias cut, and slim.

Sisterhood Will Hear Attorney

San Francisco criminal attorney Harry Wainwright will speak on "Capital Punishment" at the Jewish Community Center's Sisterhood brunch on March 17 at noon at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

Wainwright is a graduate of Hastings Law School and a member of Thurston, honor society of Hastings. He was a fighter pilot in World War II.

A question and answer session will follow Wainwright's talk.

This event will benefit the non-sectarian Nursery School of the Center. Proceeds will go to purchase special equipment, playtime materials and financial aid.

Expert Claims Battle Of Sexes Ends In Draw

NEW YORK (UPI) — Female brains are neither superior nor inferior to masculine brains, said Dr. Gardner Murphy, director of research at the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan.

He said it at a recent seminar on "Why women are better than men — and vice versa."

Dr. Murphy said there is a difference between glandular secretions in the blood of men and women, and consequently a difference in the "body fluids of incredible complexity" bathing the brain's ten billion cells.

"Every interest, taste, attitude, or value is governed to some extent by these body fluids, and behind these fluids lies the bodily structure as a whole, with its instinctual, temperamental, and other attributes," Dr. Murphy said.

The capacity for "overwhelmingly narrow and intense preoccupation in a single task and for aggressiveness and domination both biologically and historically is associated with masculinity, just as warmth, sensitivity and an interest in people are female attributes," Dr. Murphy noted.

He said because women's brains are different from men's brains, members of the gentler sex may become great novelists, but they are less likely to become great mathematicians or chess players.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Flegal of Sausalito are at home to friends in their remodeled house next door to the one they recently sold. Dr. del Bosque, a psychiatrist, came to California with Mrs. del Bosque, a year ago, from Boston.

JUNE NUPTIAL RITES SLATED

Now making wedding plans are Susan Goldman and Daniel Martin Horenstein whose engagement was recently announced. The wedding will take place on June 4 at Temple Emanu-El in San Francisco. The engagement was revealed at a cocktail party given by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Goldman of San Francisco.

The bride-elect, who attended College of Marin, is the sister of Mrs. Bud Brody of San Francisco and Mrs. Melvin Freeman of Los Angeles. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. William Goldman and Mrs. Lazar Schepps.

The future benedict, son of Mrs. Bernard L. Savin of Novato and the late Isadore H. Horenstein, has a twin sister, Mrs. Shirlie Kaiser of Novato. He is the grandson of Mrs. Herman Horenstein of Portland, Ore.

The young man, who is in the furniture business in Novato, attended Portland State University. After returning from serving with the Armed Forces he continued his studies at Santa Monica City College and College of Marin. He and his bride will reside in San Rafael.

Elks Plan Big Night

More than 175 reservations have been made for tomorrow's Father-Daughter dinner and fashion show at the Elks Club, San Rafael. The dinner gets underway at 6:30 p.m., with the fashions by daughters to follow. An "Atlantic City" ramp has been constructed for the models to walk out and display spring fashions.

West Novato P-TA Elects; Hears Talk By Judge Sims

Mrs. James Studley was elected president of the West Novato Parent-Teacher Association at its recent meeting. Elected to serve with her were Mrs. Fritiz Liebig, first vice president; Donald Wineland, second vice president; Mrs. Joseph Puleo, secretary; Mrs. J. L. Talbot, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Masterson, auditor, and Mrs. Howard Schoof, historian.

Installation of the new officers will take place at the meeting on Thursday, April 7.

Will Khrushchev bury us? Are we defaulting the responsibilities of good citizenship? These were the questions answered by Judge Richard Sims in his address to the P-TA members.

Judge Sims spoke of the alarming complacency and apathy of a great number of citizens in the United States and stated that in order to preserve our American way of freedom and humanity the citizens must re-examine their motives and establish a new set of values for their children. He pointed out the imperative need to set sights high; to work for the common good of all the peoples of the world, rather than selfish interests. He stated that the American people have been given a great heritage of freedom, but have gone "soft." According to Judge Sims, the American way of life has been likened to that of the Roman Empire. The people have stressed materialism, and have neglected such great social goals as education, public housing and public health. Such phrases as "itch for a fast buck," "short cut," "payola," and "inside track" have become the cynical viewpoint of many here, he said.

In setting forth the responsibilities of good citizenship, Judge Sims grouped citizens in three categories: The minimum citizen is one who pays his taxes, serves if drafted and abides by the law. These, in his opinion, comprise 38 per cent of our citizens. A second category, of 35 per cent, register and vote; but do so for purely personal or emotional reasons. The other 27 percent he considers as active citizens. These maintain a continuing interest in the country, carry on political activities, and usually belong to an organization which studies and influences issues. These citizens vote with a purpose. He said it is believed by some that many of our current problems would be overcome if all citizens were in this category.

In offering a solution to the threat to democratic processes, the right to free enterprise, to thresh out issue by trial and error, and the right to free choice, Judge Sims stated that the citizens must continue self-criticism, and re-evaluate their goals. "We must have intelligent and fixed goals and paths by which to find them." Only by eliminating "full bellies, empty minds and hollow hearts can we prevent Khrushchev from burying us," the speaker stated.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Dante Mazzoni, Early Smith, James Price and Lee Giddens, room mothers of the third grade classes.

Society Welcomes New Junior Group

A Junior Auxiliary was welcomed into the Humane Society by president of the parent Auxiliary, Mrs. Cole Jackman, at a brunch social recently held at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. R. Lee McDowell.

Following the convivial hour, members of the newly formed group toured the Humane Society's animal shelter in San Rafael under the guidance of Mel Morse, who explained the functions of the Society in the ever increasing population in Marin, and the need for funds for the county's animal kingdom.

Those who attended the orientation meeting were Junior Auxiliary members Mesdames J. W. M. Schorer, C. F. Stahl, George Coburn, Boyd Lang, William Deeths, and Auxiliary Junior Advisors, Mrs. Lewis Denton and Mrs. McDowell.

At the regular March meeting, the Senior Auxiliary's new members Mesdames Louis Roth, P. W. Pollack, Gertrude Porter, and Edson Adams will also tour the shelter following a business meeting.

The Humane Society Auxiliaries have planned the following spring and summer benefit affairs:

April 28 is the date of the Auxiliary's champagne opening night benefit of the Ross Valley Players' forthcoming production of "Sabrina Fair" to be held at the Barn in the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross. Mrs. George Rivers is chairman of this event.

June 1 has been circled by the Juniors for their first fund-raising effort which will be a gala champagne luncheon and fashion show in the court gardens of Rickey's at Ignacio, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Deeths.

Proceeds from both Auxiliary benefit parties will go to their respective animal welfare funds.

Marin Women

Wall Coverings

A new vinyl-on-cork wall covering "heals itself" after repeated punctures. It was designed to meet home decorating and maintenance problems, particularly in the den, family room or child's room. One-half million square feet of the material already has been tested on classrooms walls of several schools. It can take thumbtacks, nails, picture hooks — even a knife stab—and show no trace of the puncture after the instrument has been removed.

Focus Luncheon Will Honor Crippled Children, Adults

Heralding spring and the rebirth of hope for the handicapped of Marin will be the benefit Fashion Focus luncheon honoring the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., on Tuesday, March 15 at Rickey's.

The theme "Sealed in Easter Style," holds a two-fold meaning, as it will be the opening event of the Easter Seal Society's drive which begins March 17th, continuing through Easter. The campaign is the principal fund raiser for the assistance given Marin's crippled.

The Society opens the door of hope for all crippled children and adults of Marin, regardless of how or why they become handicapped. As it is a "direct service" group, it provides immediate care to victims of any disabling disease, many of whom cannot get this from any other agency.

"Fashion Focus" guests may view Easter fashions for all sizes, completely accessorized, from styles of leading designers. Hair styles of the eight models, representing Marin organizations, will be created by a Belvedere beauty salon. Commentator will be Mrs. John Bellamy Jr. of San Anselmo.

Featured guest will be Dorothy Starr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Starr of San Anselmo, who is Marin's 1960 Easter Seal Child.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. R. L. Baxter, and Mrs. Thomas Garrett, both of Corte Madera. Models and their affiliations include Mrs. Richard France of Terra Linda, Alpha Gamma Delta; Mrs. William Di Grazia, of Corte Madera, Alpha Delta Pi; Mrs. Albert E. Warrens of San Rafael, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. C. R. Leininger, of Greenbrae, Chi Omega; Mrs. Eric Wilkinson of Terra Linda, Kappa Delta; Mrs. John Fraser, of Corte Madera, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Patricia Brown, of San Anselmo, Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.; Mrs. Thomas Garrett, of Corte Madera, Friends of Arequipa.

The 12:30 p. m. luncheon is open to the public and reservations are made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Casual Shoes

Even casual shoes put on an air of sophistication this spring. The finished look of the new casual shoe begins with the closed tapered toe, continues through a variety of detailing and closures, reaching a high- or mid-point in smart heel shapes. Interesting leather treatments—punched, perforated and grained — add handsomeness to ease afoot.

Gypsy Look

Jewelry makers copy the gypsy look for summer. Hoop earrings are in many cases three inches in diameter. Festive drop earrings grow wider as they drop—almost down to the collar bone. Necklaces are 24 inches, and longer, strands of balls and chains. Some have red beads the size of little tomatoes, alternating with smaller gold balls.

Patio Roofs

For patio roofs, outdoor planters, shoji screens, shower doors, room dividers, and tub enclosures, there are fiberglass panels in 19 decorator colors and six weights. The shatterproof and weatherproof panels don't warp, shrink, buckle or sag.

Boat Ramp Worthwhile Way To Use Racing Funds

One pleasing bit of news in the papers this week was the application of the state Department of Fish and Game to construct a concrete boat launching ramp at Black Point.

The location is in the general vicinity of the Marin end of the old bridge which spanned Petaluma Creek right along side the present high level highway bridge. An earlier plan to use the old bridge approach as a fishing pier was discarded.

The launching ramp is the consummation of a lot of work on the part of sportsmen of the area, particularly the Marin Rod and Gun Club as personified by G. Paul Jones. He has spent much time and effort acquainting the state officials with the need and advisability of such a launching ramp, as have a number of other individuals and organizations.

We approve of such facilities being made available for the hunters and fishermen. There are a number of other places where such ramps can and should be constructed. These facilities in reality open up the availability of the natural resources with which the state abounds to the people who want to take advantage of them.

The money used to construct the ramp will not be tax money. It will come through the Wildlife Conservation Board from the parimutuel receipts of the state.

Somehow we feel it is particularly fitting that the horses should run so that the fisherman can fish and the hunter hunt.

We congratulate the Fish and Game Department and hope that they keep doing more of the same.

Ferns—Weird And Beautiful

Ferns—both the coarse bracken and the delicate maidenhair—are currently pushing up and uncoiling themselves on Mt. Tamalpais and on hills and meadows throughout Marin.

What a strange picture a coiled fern presents! Some people think it's rather cobra-like and weird. Its symmetry and the graceful arch and curves of the coiled head—like some futuristic celestial harp — remind others of Nature's prodigal beauties. Studied closely, these feathery opening coils are a true work of art.

They are also edible and are reputed to have a flavor resembling that of asparagus. The Indians were reportedly quite fond of young fern shoots, as were our pioneer ancestors.

However, the bracken fern is also a great pest, probably because it is so efficient. It robs the soil of its nutrients and shades precious grass. A field which has gone to bracken is of little use for anything else.

But to the Nature lover there is probably nothing more lovely than a broad, wild hillside or forest glade carpeted with feathery ferns of several varieties. And they are never more interesting than when they are rising from the ground and uncoiling their lacy leaves.

A LIFETIME IN JAIL

A 94-year-old prisoner in the Ohio Penitentiary died not long ago after spending 59 years in prison.

Life is much too short to spend in jail. During our stay here below, the Lord expects us to have at least a taste of the joy and freedom that He promises for all eternity to those who love Him.

Few make mistakes that put them in prison for most of their lives. But too many deprive themselves of the peace of heart, mind and soul that they could so easily enjoy.

Sinful habits developed over a period of time can gain a terrific hold and gradually become even more restrictive than prison bars.

The age-old, divine formula of "do good" and "avoid evil" was given to Moses more than 3,000 years ago and continues to be the changeless pattern that leads to peace and freedom on earth.

No matter how many times others may falter or fail it is always within your power to contribute to "peace on earth" by "doing good."

"I have chosen to be an abject in the house of my God, rather than to dwell in the tabernacles of sinners."

(Psalm 83:11)

Deepen in us, O Lord, a determination to live up to responsibilities.

Only Those Who Pack Expense Accounts Don't Carry Lunches

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a time when only the laboring stiff—the blue collar worker—carried his lunch to his job.

Now that is all changed.

Thanks to prosperity, a good two-martini lunch today costs as much as a tonsillectomy did in the old days. If you see a man going into a restaurant for lunch, you automatically figure he's on an expense account. Who else can afford to eat in one?

So millions of white collar workers, those who haven't yet managed to climb into the expense account aristocracy, now daily pack a home-made lunch to the office.

They don't carry it brazenly and openly in an old-fashioned tin bucket or brown paper bag. No, indeed. That would be too crass. They tote it in those expensive important-looking leather attache cases.

Open their brief cases and what do you see! Not carbon paper stains. Mustard marks . . . catsup stains . . . calcified fragments of peanut butter and perhaps even a trapped and brooding cockroach, far from his native suburb.

Look around your office when the noon whistle blows. Here are a few typical locker room gourmets you are bound to find assembling at the tables there for a mutual munch:

1. The Swapper—"I'll trade you a piece of cake my mother-in-law baked for one of your hardboiled eggs," he says. After you crack a tooth on the cake, you know what his mother-in-law is after. His insurance.

2. The Long-Nosed Snoop—He carefully itemizes everything in your lunch as you unwrap it. "Well," he says loudly, "you must have had a fuss with your wife. She sure short-changed you today."

3. THE HEALTH NUT — His daily fare consists invariably of three ounces of wheat germ mixed with two tablespoons each of honey and blackstrap molasses followed by four raw carrots. He spends most of the afternoon trying to get the molasses off his necktie.

4. The Skeleton at the Banquet — "Enjoy yourself while you can," he says, shaking his head. "When you get an ulcer like I've got, all you'll be able to eat is graham crackers dipped in milk."

5. THE ABSENT-MINDED Accountant — One day out of five he finds that he threw away his lunch before leaving home . . . and packed the garbage instead.

Pledge Affirms A Basic Right

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Leo Kemper's collection of glib phrases and vague reasoning in answer to your Feb. 22 editorial, is largely irrelevant.

He passes over the aim of the pledge, which is merely an affirmation of a basic right His high-sounding statement about proving oneself a worthy neighbor before being accepted is not pertinent and, in my experience, very debatable.

And that rights can be successfully provided by edict is many times a matter of record tho this too is not germane to the editorial.

Finally, Mr. Kemper's unoriginal opinion that "pressure attempts . . . to bring quick acceptance . . . will bring . . . further resentment and . . . delay" is particularly inappropriate to the low-pressure appeal of the committee's pledge and the thoughtful editorial.

I only hope that we people of Marin have the self-confidence and conviction of a mature populace, unafraid of allowing all people the same opportunities. Only the very insecure and fearful of us need be otherwise.

Why Third Trial For Scooter Rider?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

District Attorney William O. Weissich announced last month that he was dropping the Hallinan case (a felony) because the jury was hung and he felt, therefore, that another jury trial would have the same result, and he wished to save taxpayers' money.

I agree with Mr. Weissich's opinion and endorse his desire to save public money.

Except that the district attorney doesn't happen to make sense. He is now preparing a THIRD jury trial for a misdemeanor, the case of a Mr. Joseph E. Foley, who had an accident on his motor scooter and whom Weissich is attempting to prove by this series of jury trials to have been drunk at the time. The two previous juries could produce no finding. . . .

To dismiss the Hallinan felony and yet pour money into the prosecution of this misdemeanor certainly warrants an explanation from the district attorney.

Winter Olympics Great, But Were They Worth Cost?

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Winter Olympic games at Squaw Valley were an artistic and athletic success — but the question still remains whether they were worth the almost $14,000,000 in taxpayers' money used to stage them.

As one who spent two and a half weeks in the snow-covered valley, we'll gladly agree it was a once-in-a-lifetime spectacle.

But was it worth almost $9,000,000 to the taxpayers of the state of California, $3,500,000 to the federal taxpayers, $880,000 from Department of Defense funds and another $363,000 from Nevada taxpayers?

WHAT HAPPENS to Squaw Valley now?

Gov. Edmund G. Brown says it will become a state park — a year-round playground.

But that won't recover the money used to build facilities for the games. Indeed, the very same taxpayers who ponied up the $14,000,000 will have to pay to park, pay to use the rope tows and ski lifts, the ice arena, pay to stay in the Olympic village dormitories and of course, pay for their own food.

And as of this moment, no one in state service seems to know exactly how the park will be operated or who will run it.

Some legislators, notably Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville), would like to see a detailed audit of all monies collected by the Olympics Commission and the Organizing Committee — and a breakdown of how every dime was spent.

This they have been promised by state Department of Finance officials, many of whom spent a day or two at Squaw Valley during the games as guests of the management.

Both Unruh and Regan are more than a little curious to know how much of the last $1,000,000 appropriated by the state just last month will be needed to pay off outstanding debts and liabilities incurred by the organizing committee.

This was a "cushion fund" which Olympic officials said they would like to have to guarantee that there would be ready cash available to see that all athletes got a return ticket home, that temporary employees at the Games were paid and that concessionaire contracts were fulfilled promptly.

AS SOME legislators see it, the basic trouble with the financial end of the Olympics was a too-rosy estimate of revenues.

The Games were staged on the basis that about $3,500,000 in revenue would be forthcoming from the sale of tickets.

That proved to be far too optimistic.

Actual attendance totaled 240,904 — a gross of $2,100,000 or about $1,400,000 short of the estimate.

Instead of a total of $3,882,000 estimated to be banked from all revenue sources such ing, programs and concessions, a preliminary breakdown released by the public relations department the final day of the games showed the gross receipts to be about $2,475,000, with some other minor amounts of income yet to be reported.

These figures would indicate, indeed, that a substantial part of the $1,000,000 "cushion fund" will be needed to balance the books. Yet, as Regan pointed out, Olympics officials assured the legislature when they asked for the additional money that it would be needed only if bad weather cut down on attendance.

The fact is that the weather for the 11-day run of the Games was nearly perfect — perfect, that is, for the Sierra in mid-winter.

Yet the attendance figures were below the Organizing Committee's own estimates — prompting Regan, Unruh and quite a few other senators and assemblymen to ask once more:

"Was it worth it?"

"Papa," asked a city boy on vacation wtih his folks," what makes cocks crow so loudly every morning?"

"My boy," answered his weary father, "they are merely making the most of their opportunity before the hens wake up."

Rain Washes Away Dust Of Winter And Brings Forth Beauty Of Spring

Like most good things spring doesn't last long. It has started in Marin—never mind the almanac or the calendar—and it is beautiful.

But it will not be long before the dry summer winds sweep over us, and we will have to take refuge among the boxed and potted plants of our patios.

THERE IS A TREE outside the window that is bursting with deep pink blossoms. We don't know its name and we don't care. We doubt if it will ever bear fruit. It's about as useful as a butterfly. Here today and gone tomorrow, and in that fleeting period called spring it will enrich our lives with beauty.

A clump of violets that last summer was sickly and moth-eaten in appearance has suddenly snapped to life. There exudes a fragrance that is mysterious and delicate.

Another tree already is losing its white blossoms, and their places are being taken by tender light green leaves. Nearby a fig tree is holding back a little. Its leaves will be there in the summer to bring us a bit of spring and remind us of ancient times.

WILD OATS and grass cover the hillside, and while we would be the last to say that when they die and turn brown in the summer they are not still lovely, we like them best in the spring. Thus California's hills show the seasons, and we like all of them.

Even the persistent bay trees look greener, but they offer little competition to the grasses at their feet. Poison oak, too, is sprouting forth, a devil's business clothed subtly in spring's mantle.

A mountain cedar has turned to rust, its hopeful blossoms carrying on nature's wishes, and near it a daphne is still crowned in the glory of its flowers, little wax gems with ambrosial perfume.

RAIN HAS WASHED away the dust of winter, brought the soil back to life. With each slight downpour, we hope there will be just a little more, to keep the garden life green, and give us chance to pull weeds instead hold a hose.

Here and there are early and sturdy wildflowers, and soon the poppies will be in bloom.

THE BIRDS, either planning nests or overcome by the forest of green and its insects, are more active than ever. Quail dart from undercover and their voices lend color to their drab little backs.

And there, just out of reach, but in full sight, we saw two small but full-grown deer. They sniffed toward us, but otherwise stood still, and looked back at two children who had never seen anything like them before.

It was early morning. Quiet. Spring.

Chamber Of Commerce Makes Case For State Economics, Tax Cut

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California is in dire need of tax relief to attract industry to this state, necessary to create jobs for the expanding population.

This was the statement made by the California State Chamber of Commerce in promoting a six-point economy and tax reduction resolution it passed recently.

Immediate tax reductions, and a review of state governmental expenditures were urged to bring about increased efficiency and economy in government.

ACTUALLY, THE STATE chamber has about as much chance of effecting tax reduction, or economies in government, as a snowball has of surviving in the nether regions. But because a large minority believes government is over-stepping itself, the principles outlined by the chamber are discussed here.

The chamber lists six points in urging tax reductions. They are:

1. USE OF THE multi-million dollar state surplus to decrease taxes, rather than for increased spending.

2. Reduction of tax rates on both individual and business to a point where California can compare favorably with other states.

3. Resumption by the legislature of its responsibility for annually appropriating all expenditures other than those fixed constitutionally.

4. A comprehensive examination of state spending and effectiveness in management to obtain maximum efficiency and economy.

5. Financing of capital outlays by a combination of bonds and pay-as-you go rather than use of surpluses.

6. Legislation to bring about a workable lien or recovery provision in public assistance laws.

The chamber points out that a surplus has accumulated in the state treasury as the result of new taxes ($75 million). The chamber opposed these taxes over a year ago on grounds that with economies, the new taxes would be unnecessary and would create a surplus.

IT SAYS FURTHER that a tax reduction program is indispensable if the state is to encourage the industrial development needed in a minimum amount of $3 billion annually for creation of 250,000 new jobs a year.

California collects more state-levied taxes than any other state in the union. Per-capita state and local taxes are the second highest of any state, and combined state and local per capita expenditures near the highest.

California collected $1,812 million in state levied taxes in 1959, the chamber says, compared to $1,586 million for New York and $901 million for Pennsylvania.

"THIS MEANS," the chamber said, "that California not only collected more than New York, but double that of any other state."

On the point of a survey of government agencies, the chamber said California never has had a complete review for either improvement in efficiency or economy or for the need for the thousands of services being rendered.

It appears unfortunate that when business, which constitutes the greater part of economic life in the life in the state, recommends surveys of this type for economies, that the surveys are not carried out.

School Playgrounds Should Be Well Planned And Carefully Supervised

"Our children are becoming cowards or bullies," writes a mother, "because of conditions on our elementary school playground. There are no planned games and the teachers don't go out to see what is happening. The big kids run wild. They have the little ones terrified. Fights occur every day.

"Don't you think school playgrounds should be better organized than that?"

Yes. Most schools have their playgrounds well organized. Hundreds of children must play together in a limited area. If we don't plan and supervise carefully there is sure to be trouble.

As you say, the stronger children become bullies; the less active ones, cowards. It isn't good.

Usually school principals make their own playground plans. Sometimes they ask a trusted teacher to do the job. Their arrangements depend on the size of the school, size and shape of the playground and types of equipment available.

Usually schools provide large group games for the children from the fourth grade up. Ball games, for example. The children choose teams within their rooms. They play tournaments. They enjoy it.

The younger children don't take to group games as well. They need a fenced off play area from which the big boys are barred. They need swings, sandboxes, jungle gyms. Sometimes older girls can be trained to help the smaller ones with circle games.

Adults must supervise all parts of school playgrounds. In most schools the teachers do it. In a few places special recreation leaders are hired. They work before school, at recess, at noon and after school.

I suggest you clip this column. Take it to school. Use it as the starting point for some discussions with your principal.

Corte Madera Tops County In Sales Leap

Corte Madera led other Marin cities in increase of sales volume since 1954, it was reported today by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. The city's great increase was largely due to opening of its new shopping center.

A review of United States Business Census reports for Marin by the foundation showed that county sales increased 59.5 in the four-year period, while during the same period the county's population went up 27.5 per cent.

The foundation also reported that "selected service" trades gained 63.8 per cent in number of employees and the number of establishments increased by 38.9 during the same period.

Local communities increased their sales volume during the four years as follows: Corte Madera 235.7; Sausalito 109.3; San Rafael 75.3; Fairfax 44.2; San Anselmo 38.0; Mill Valley 20.8, and Larkspur 7.8.

More Storms Strike

More snow and ice storms today swept across sections of the winter-weary Midwest and South, hitting areas still staggering from crippling weather earlier this week.

Meanwhile, in the snowbound mountain regions of northwest North Carolina, the Army, National Guard and the Red Cross joined forces to effect the rescue of and give relief to more than 500 marooned families.

Apprentices To Get Their Certificates

The Marin County Joint Labor-Management Apprenticeship Committee will hold its 13th annual dinner Saturday honoring completing apprentices at Rickey's Rancho Rafael at 6:30 p.m.

Marin County Supervisor William D. Fusselman will give the welcoming address. Charles F. Hanna, chief, Division of Apprenticeship Standards of the Department of Industrial Relations, will be speaker for the evening, and Donald A. Jensen, Marin County administrator, will present the state trade certificates.

Herman J. Hale, apprenticeship consultant, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, will present certificates of meritorious service to five men who have earned the award by active membership in their committees for five years or longer.

Transit Splits Planners, City Council

The Mill Valley Planning Commission will object to the city council's reversal regarding the location of rapid transit district facilities in Mill Valley, Mrs. Ruth Gustafson, chairman, said today.

A letter will go to the council in time for its Wednesday meeting, Mrs. Gustafson said.

Mrs. Gustafson said that at the commission's Tuesday meeting the members noted the council's decision was a reversal of the commission's recommendation that the rapid transit right-of-way be put along the present railroad right-of-way.

The commission decided, Mrs. Gustafson added, to send a letter to the council suggesting that "this was not in the best planning interests for the recreational and commercial areas at the entrance of Mill Valley."

The planning commission had recommended that the route be on the eastern side of Highway 101.

Thief Skips Bongo Drums, Gets Horns

A burglar, apparently with high-class taste for music, stole two saxophones and a trumpet from a San Rafael music store Wednesday night but ignored two sets of bongo drums on the same display rack.

The thief broke glass at the Miracle Music shop at 2066 Fourth street and stole the three instruments, valued at $720, according to San Rafael police.

Frank M. Costa of the Vieira Radio Patrol noticed the window smashed at 1 a.m. yesterday and called police. Officers called the owner, Robert William Olney of 842 Hacienda way, San Rafael, who said the thief had taken the most valuable instruments in the display.

Transit Board Sets 2nd Monthly Meet

Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District voted yesterday to meet regularly twice a month to handle the increasing volume of business of the district.

The board, which now meets the second Thursday of each month at 2 p.m., decided its other regular meeting should be at 10 a.m. on the fourth Thursday.

Marin Director John C. Beckett opposed the extra regular meeting, claiming the president was able to call the second meeting when necessary and no meeting should be called unless it was necessary. He lost by a 9 to 3 vote.

Sausalito Athletic Club Schedules Car Wash

A car wash by the teen-age Sausalito Athletic Club, rained out last weekend, has been rescheduled for tomorrow and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Union Oil station on Bridgeway.

Facilities are being loaned free to the boys so they may earn money to run their club, buy sports equipment and give to charity.

ONE WAY OF SAYING, 'I AIN'T TALKIN'

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—The two jail inmates had been conversing in sign language for several days.

Officer Wilbert Anderson began questioning one of the unidentified men by writing questions on paper. And the man wrote his answers.

For some reason, Anderson said he wrote:

"Are you deaf?"

The man shook his head.

"Well, what is your condition?" said Anderson.

"I can talk," the man said audibly. "I thought you were deaf."

The speaking inmate said he used sign language because his companion was deaf.

Private Job To Develop Harbor Eyed

The Larkspur Recreation Commission has expressed interest in the possibility of private development and lease of the city's small boat harbor site on Arroyo Holon canal.

No firm proposal has been made for such development, but commissioners said they would like to discuss the idea with the city council and any interested developers.

The city last month failed to obtain a $370,000 municipal harbor development loan from the state Small Craft Harbors Commission.

Commissioners John Barry and Mrs. Barbara Barbey were appointed Wednesday night to confer with the city planning commission on possible subdivision ordinance amendments guaranteeing the preservation of recreational sites in future residential developments.

The commission also recommended that the city council take immediate steps to purchase the Eastman Hall site at William and Holcomb avenues from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The hall, moved to the site a year ago and refurbished, is used for recreational activities.

Sausalito Art Shop To Open Sunday

The Paint Box, described as a "real small gallery," will open at the Village Fair, Sausalito, Sunday.

John Checkley, who will be in charge, said the business will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. He said the Paint Box will offer "little original San Francisco and Sausalito paintings" by himself and other Bay Area artists "at prices the people in the street can afford."

In addition, artists will give painting demonstrations at noon and at 3 p.m.

Boat Sales Property In San Rafael Leased

R. D. Lange Sr. of San Rafael has leased property housing the Godtfredsen Boat Shop in San Rafael to Marin Investments Inc., he announced today.

The business is being sold to Marin Investments and Roland Reed Yacht Sales, the new operating company, by Harvey C. and Dorothy Godtfredsen. Custom Paper Products of San Francisco is main stockholder in the investment corporation.

To See New Car

Frank E. Hawkins is flying to the New York Auto Show Sunday for his first view of the new P1800 sports coupe model of the Swedish Volvo. It will soon be introduced to Marin County at his showrooms at 1826 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Speed Asked In Coast School Study

A more rapid consideration of the study of possible formation of a West Marin unified school district has been asked by trustees of the Stinson Beach and Bolinas school districts.

Arthur Carpenter, Bolinas board clerk, said a letter to this effect has been sent to the county committee for school district organization.

Carpenter said a letter has also been sent to the organization asking for a study of the final unionization of the Stinson Beach-Bolinas grammar school district so that there might be an election on the matter by fall.

E. L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the county superintendent of schools, spoke on the proposed unionization of the Stinson Beach and Bolinas schools.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was the first American poet to be commemorated in England's Westminster Abbey.

San Quentin Eyes Student Transfer

The San Quentin School District board has appointed Mrs. Ruth Smith to approach the San Rafael Board of Education to negotiate the transfer of some of the overflow from the overcrowded San Quentin classrooms.

Mrs. Smith said today that she planned to wait a couple of weeks to see if she can get a better picture of what next semester's enrollment will be.

The board also moved next month's meeting up a week to April 6 at 6:30 p.m. in the schoolhouse.

Redeveloping Unit To Sell Loan Notes

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency has adopted a resolution authorizing the sale of temporary loan notes for financing its next development operation in the sum of $986,000.

The resolution was adopted at the Monday meeting of the agency's board of directors, according to Executive Director Bert Klahn.

The commissioners were presented with the third draft of the James Scheur contract for redevelopment of Marin City, Klahn said. A copy has been submitted to the Urban Renewal Administration in San Francisco for its review.

Outdoor Ashtrays

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Mayor Frank A. Sedita has found an answer to a problem faced by many cities with anti-littering campaigns — how to dispose of cigarette and cigar butts for those who smoke outdoors.

After checking with the sewer authority, the mayor found there was no objection to using the city's storm-drain receivers as outdoor ashtrays.

Victors Named In High School Essay Contest

Five Marin high school students, four of them from San Rafael High School, have been named winners in Marin's first contest for essays on providing jobs for the handicapped.

The winners were announced by William Tendler of Mill Valley, chairman of the Marin County Veterans Employment Committee, which sponsored the event locally.

Winners are: first, Lynn Howard, 16, of 55 Montecito road, San Rafael, San Rafael High School junior; second, Patsy Lea Robertson, 17, of Bodega Bay, Tomales High School senior; third, Gretchen Glazier, 16, of 650 Wakerobin lane, Terra Linda, San Rafael senior; fourth, Elizabeth Anne Hastings, 17, 366 Irwin street, San Rafael junior, and fifth, Charles Morehouse, 17, of 54 Marina boulevard, San Rafael, senior.

Miss Howard won a $100 savings bond and the right to compete on the state level with other high school winners. Miss Robertson won a $50 savings bond. Miss Glazier, Miss Hastings and Morehouse, won $25 savings bonds.

John D. Hardin, veterans employment representative at the Department of Employment office in San Rafael said the contest has been held on a national level for 12 years.

The essay title, supplied by the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, was "Jobs for the Handicapped — Passports to Dignity."

Essays were judged on significance of content, originality, impact organization, clarity, expression and neatness.

Judges were Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools; Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of Ross General Hospital, and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos. Hollis wrote his master of arts thesis on the rehabilitation of amputees.
